BRITISH AND FRENCH FLEETS COMMENCE BOMBARDMENT OF FORTS OF THE DARDANELLES

According to an Official Account Received at Athens From the Island of Tenedos, at the Entrance of the Straits, the Attack Resulted in Considerable Success.

TURKISH REPORT DECLARES NO DAMAGE DONE

Naval Experts, However, Say Fight Most Serious Ever Undertaken, With No Less Than Eight Battleships and Armored Cruisers Participating—Aim at Release of Large Stocks of Wheat.

London, Feb. 20.—The first serious attack by the British and French Mediterranean fleets, assisted by aeroplanes and seaplanes, on the Dardanelles forts, which commenced yesterday morning and continued today, has met with considerable success, according to the British official account and unofficial reports received at Athens from the Island of Tenedos, at the entrance to the straits.

The Turkish official report, however, stated that no damage has been done to the forts and that the casualties of the defenders consisted of one killed and one wounded, but that three of the warships were damaged by shots from the forts.

The British report said that the forts on the European side of the straits were silenced yesterday and that only one of the forts on the Asiatic side was still firing yesterday evening, while none of the warships had been damaged. The Greek accounts said that the Asiatic forts were silenced today, but no official report of this bombardment has been issued by the admiralty as yet.

The bombardment must have been one of the most serious ever undertaken, in the opinion of naval experts, for no less than eight battleships and armored cruisers took part, these warships having a total of thirty 12-inch and six 10-inch guns, which outranged the guns of the forts.

Early Friday morning this fleet, including the British cruiser Inflexible, which had just returned from the Falkland Islands, where, with other ships, she took part in the battle in which Admiral Count von Spee's German squadron was destroyed, opened a long range bombard-

Attendance of First Day at Panama-Pacific Expo Smashes all the Records

San Francisco, Feb. 20.—All records for the exposition first-day attendance were broken today at the opening of the Panama-Pacific international exposition. By 4 o'clock this afternoon the turnstiles had clicked off 225,000 admissions and it was expected that by midnight, with the lure of the illuminations to draw the crowd, the total would have reached more than 300,000.

The previous record was at the opening day of the St. Louis world's fair, 176,453, in 1904.

President Wilson was represented at the simple dedicatory exercises by Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior. The exposition was opened when President Wilson pushed a button in the white house, which sent an electric spark across the continent. The exposition will be open tomorrow and succeeding Sundays. Monday will be held the Vanderbilt automobile cup races, to be followed five days later by the grand prize race.

Betrayed by Woman Loved, Officers Shoot Pat Murphy, Wanted in Ft. Worth, Texas

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 20.—Betrayed by the woman he loved, Pat Murphy, 26, wanted in Texas on five felony charges, including the robbery of $11,000 from an aged Fort Worth pawnbroker last September, was shot in the leg and captured this morning. The woman whom Murphy came here to see notified the officers that the fugitive was at her home last night. Murphy broke through the officers who had surrounded the house and escaped, after exchanging three shots with Sheriff Hutton. This morning Murphy called the woman on the telephone and she made an appointment to meet him in the suburbs and immediately notified the officers. Murphy was shot and his leg broken as he left a street car to keep the appointment.

Wanted in Fort Worth

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 20.—Pat Murphy, arrested in Little Rock today, is wanted by the authorities here for alleged complicity in a hold-up and assault on J. W. Mitchell, one of the leading jewelers of this city. Horace Collins is under sentence of fifty-five years in the penitentiary for the same hold-up.

VALENTINE MEASURE OPENS RE-ENTRY WAY TO OUSTED CONCERNS

BILL PROPOSES TO LET WATERS-PIERCE AND OTHER CORPORATIONS COME BACK.

Austin, Feb. 20.—The Valentine bill, reference to which is made in dispatches today, has started something in the house. The passage of the bill, it is said, will open the way for re-entry of the Waters-Pierce and other ousted corporations into the state. With this understanding Cope of Childress, author of the oil mill and gin divorcement bill three times defeated, has prepared a substitute in which he uses the names of the corporations the Valentine bill is supposed to help. He names the Waters-Pierce, the Pierce Oil Corporation and the Pierce-Fordyce Oil Association and provides that if these or any other such corporations desire to return to Texas they shall simply go before the court by which they were ousted and promise to be good. Cope expects his substitute to kill the proposed legislation.

The house engrossed the compulsory education bill by 82 to 19 and passed finally the congressional reapportionment bill with the single amendment of taking Palo Pinto county out of the thirteenth district and placing it in the seventeenth, or Breisford's district. Representative Williams' bill reforming the manner and form of pleading in civil cases in county and district courts also was passed finally. The only amendment to the compulsory education bill adopted provides that for the first year attendance shall be for sixty days, beginning September 1, 1917, eighty days the second year, and 100 days thereafter. The bill increasing salaries of district judges from three to four thousand a year was killed. The Burnet woman suffrage resolution was set for Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock as a special order. Women are expected to throng the galleries to hear the eloquence of their champions in this measure as well as of those who oppose the movement. Bagby of Lavaca will lead the opposition and he is slated for a speech that will be memorable in the annals of Texas legislation.

Senator Bee, in the debate on the Wiley uniform price bill, referring to provisions requiring the attorney general to take action to carry out the law, said that the office of the attorney general of Texas had become greatly exaggerated in the estimation of some persons; that it had come to pass that the attorney general had become the court of last resort, instead of being merely the advisory legal officer of the state government.

McNealus got up his bid amending the liberal laws, but a discussion was started that threatened to result in a roll call and placing the senate under call to get a quorum, and with the understanding that his bill would be pending business he consented to a motion to adjourn until Monday morning. Favorable report by committee was

Some fear was expressed at first about allowing Chimmie McFadden to lean over the parapet of the Amicable last night. But Chimmie allayed that fear by pointing to a newspaper clipping which showed him talking from the top of the L. C. Smith building in Seattle. The Smith building is 42 stories high.

"For a hundred dollars I'd go hand over hand down the side of a building on a cable," declared Chimmie. He only grinned when told that a brass band playing on top of the building couldn't be heard in the streets below.

"They'll hear me all right," he said confidently yesterday afternoon, after he had climbed up to take a look at the roof and was photographed.

"If it was possible I'd like to recite this little poem from the top of the Amicable, so that every boy in town could hear it," declared Chimmie. "Get this:

"Whilst walking down a crowded city street the other day
I heard a little urchin to a comrade turn and say:
'Chimmie, lemme tell youse, I'd be as happy as a clam
If I was only de feller me mudder tinks I am.'

"She tinks dat I'm a wonder and she knows her little lad
Could never mix wuz nutting dat wuz ugly, mean or bad.
And lots o' times I tink how nice 't would be, gee whizz!
If a feller wuz de feller dat his mudder tinks he is.'

My friend, be yours a life of toil, or undiluted joy,
You still can learn a lesson from that small unlettered boy.
Don't aim to be an earthly saint, with eyes fixed on a star—
But just try to be the feller that your mother thinks you are."

Two Women Shot to Death by Salesman

Newark, N. J., Feb. 20.—Miss Hattie Reeves, a stenographer, and Mrs. Mary Clark were shot and killed today at the termination of a quarrel between Miss Reeves and Hiram E. Craig, in Miss Reeves' apartment. Craig has a bullet in his body, but may recover. The police say he shot the two women and then attempted suicide. According to the police, Craig, a salesman, had been paying attention to Miss Reeves and called at her apartment last night. He waited there, the police say, till she returned today. A quarrel ensued. Mrs. Clark, who lived on the floor above, heard shots and, running up stairs to investigate, was hit by a bullet and killed.

Two Mexicans and Officers in Fight

Houston, Feb. 20.—Two Mexicans charged with horse theft engaged in a pistol battle this morning with Deputy Sheriff Bob Risher and City Marshal Box Davis of Alice, in Jim Wells county, but escaped. Neither of the officers was wounded, but tonight a posse of armed citizens and officers of Alice are scouring the country for the Mexicans. The fight occurred twenty miles from Alice. The Mexicans had been called upon to surrender and replied by opening fire on the officers. General shooting resulted when the refugees, deserting their horses, took to the brush.

SHEETS OF RAIN AND DRIVING WINDS FAIL TO DROWN HIS VOICE

KING OF NEWSBOYS, ON TOP OF THE AMICABLE, IS DISTINCTLY HEARD BY CROWDS ON THE STREETS—HEARD AT TWELFTH AND WEST.

WACO VISIT TO CONCLUDE

McFadden Will Talk at Cotton Palace Coliseum This Afternoon on "That Lecture on Anti-Cigarettes and Anti-Booze—Tonight at the Christian Church."

Sheets of rain and driving winds seemed to combine in an effort last night to drown the voice of Chimmie McFadden, "King of Newsboys," who spoke to Waco from the top of the Amicable building. But Chimmie, enveloped in his green sweater and sheltered by a cotton umbrella, conquered and hundreds in the streets under shelter of friendly store awnings and in automobiles, heard Chimmie's words clearly and distinctly.

"I'm Chimmie McFadden and I'll talk tomorrow afternoon at the Cotton Palace coliseum against boys using cigarettes and booze."

But the above words are spelled out and read in about one-tenth the length of time it required Chimmie to deliver them. Five boys yelled in chorus against Chimmie, but his great voice with 87½ pounds lung pressure behind the vocal chords boomed loud, if not clearly above the din of the city. After fifteen minutes in the rain and wind he came down stairs with Manager Higgins of the building, only to learn that the big crowd on the west side of the building had been disappointed. Rather than let them go away without proof of his marvelous lung power, Chimmie again went to the roof and leaned far out over the railing where people are ordinarily not allowed to go. Chimmie said he'd take his chances on falling over and then he yelled to the crowd. They heard him. A woman at Twelfth and West streets called up the Morning News and said she had heard him out there—seventeen blocks almost against the wind.

COASTING STEAMER CAMBANK TORPEDOED WITHOUT NOTICE, FIRST INCIDENT OF NEW MOVE

German Submarine Makes Its Appearance in Irish Sea and Attacks Britisher, Killing Three of Crew While Men Take to Their Boats—Fourth Dies by Drowning.

STATIONED NEAR ROUTE OF ATLANTA LINERS

Except for Loss of Life, the Affair Is Not Regarded as Serious Matter, but Uneasiness Will Probably Come Because of Presence of Submarines in Waters Traversed by Commercial Boats.

London, Feb. 20.—A German submarine made its appearance in the Irish Sea this morning and torpedoed, without notice, the British coasting steamer Cambank, of 1990 tons register. Three of the crew were killed and a fourth was drowned, while the men were taking to the boats.

This incident was the only one connected with the German submarine blockade of the British Isles reported during the day. It came about the same time that the Anglo-French fleets were bombarding the Dardanelles forts and while the Russians, according to a telegram received from Petrograd, were administering a defeat to the Germans at Ossowetz, Poland and driving back to the frontier the troops who had attacked the fortress.

Except for the loss of life, the sinking of the Cambank was not in itself a serious matter, but the presence of the German submarines near the route which the Atlantic liners take on their way to and from Liverpool and along which many steamers pass daily, is bound to cause some uneasiness.

It is true that this was not the first time that a hostile submarine has been in these waters, but the last one to visit them gave the crews of three ships which she sank an opportunity to leave the vessels before sinking them.

The Cambank apparently had slowed down to pick up her Liverpool pilot when she was observed by the submarine and torpedoed. While the sinking of this steamer can, however, raise no diplomatic problems, a serious situation may arise out of the torpedoing of the Norwegian tank steamer Belridge, which, according to the British admiralty, was struck by a torpedo off Folkestone.

The Norwegian foreign office has ordered the Norwegian consulate at London to investigate this affair and report immediately, with the object, it is thought, of making representations to Germany of the facts as stated by the British officials.

Despite the attacks on these steamers, the arrivals at and sailings from their ports maintain their daily average.

In the meantime, the battles on the continent continue with ever increasing intensity. The offensive which the allies took early in the week has brought about

Irregularities Charges Lead to Votes Recount

Practically no material changes resulted from a recount of the votes in Second ward box, completed this morning, shortly after 2 o'clock. The recount was made on charges of irregularities, and were based on statements that ballots were miscounted during the count of Tuesday's election.

Two witnesses were examined by the city executive committee yesterday, previously to beginning the recount. These, however, had to do with Third ward, about which charges had also been made. The judges and clerks in that precinct were wholly vindicated. All of the members of the executive committee were present during the recount excepting Joe Kemendo, whose proxy was held by J. SHEETS OF RAIN AND DRIVING WINDS FAIL TO DROWN HIS VOICE

C. A. will be concluded today with two talks. He talked once yesterday afternoon before the Boy Scouts and the Saturday Afternoon Club in the Y. M. C. A. and sold papers on the street in the morning.

A few minutes past 6 o'clock yesterday evening when street traffic was at its highest, Chimmie went to the top of the Amicable building and tested out his lung power. People crowded into the streets, wondering what cloud the voice came from. He stood silhouetted against the sky like a tiny black speck, despite the generous proportions of his figure. And he was heard—even above the street's roar—the honk of automobiles and the clanging of street car gongs.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock he will deliver an address under auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and sanctioned by the Pastors' Association. It will be on the subject "That Boy," and will be delivered in the Cotton Palace coliseum. McFadden will then invite all boys of the city to identify themselves with the "Chimmie McFadden National Anti-Cigarette League," a branch of which was practically started last Thursday night when Chimmie spoke before the Working Boys' Club.

Ministers and Sunday school superintendents of all denominations are invited to sit on the platform. The place has been swept and garnished and ushers from the Y. M. C. A. will be prepared to take care of the crowds.

The address will be the same as Chimmie delivered in Dr. Matthews Baptist church at Seattle; the Plymouth Congregational church at Vancouver, B. C.; the First Presbyterian church and Congregational churches at Frisco; the Temple Baptist church at Los Angeles; before 7,000 people in the Hippodrome theatre at Cleveland and 12,000 people at Madison Square Garden in New York. His subject covers a knowledge gleaned from close observation and personal contact with nearly half a million boys.

In the evening Chimmie will talk before the Central Christian church, occupying the pulpit. He will talk on "New York City's Underworld and the Church's Influence Upon It."

Two interesting sidelights on Chimmie's visit to Waco are furnished. The first was the meeting of Chimmie's bride with Miss Belle Edmond, teacher at the high school who had been a schoolmate of Mrs. McFadden's mother in Alabama.

The second incident was the meeting Saturday of Mrs. McFadden and her half brother, Charles Armstrong, who owns a large farm near Belton, Texas. It was the first time in eighteen years that the two had met and people in the Riggins hotel lobby looked on wonderingly at the pretty, well-haired young bride and the staid looking farmer embraced. Mr. Armstrong came up from Belton especially to see Mrs. McFadden.

Negro Arrested.
A negro, who was supposed to have stolen some butter from a residence at 1121 North Ninth street yesterday afternoon late, was caught by several citizens and turned over to the police force. He was removed to the county jail last night.

GIRLS! CLEAN AND BEAUTIFY HAIR NO DANDRUFF---25 CENT DANDERINE

WASHING HAIR! TRY THIS!
HAIR GLOSSY, SOFT
AND ABUNDANT.

"Danderine Hair" is a "Danderine Hair" which you wish to immediately beautify your hair. Just wash with Danderine and your hair will grow through your hair, the Y. M. C. A. and will be delivered in the Cotton Palace coliseum. McFadden will then invite all boys of the city to identify themselves with the "Chimmie McFadden National Anti-Cigarette League," a branch of which was practically started last Thursday night when Chimmie spoke before the Working Boys' Club.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful. You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as suggested.

UNITED STATES WILL MAKE NO REPLY SOON

BRITISH AND GERMAN NOTES, FOR PRESIDENT, WILL GO UNANSWERED.

FUTURE DEPENDS ON ACTION

Officials Expect No Further Move
Unless Some Overt Act Is Committed.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The United States probably will make no reply, for the present at least, to either the British or German notes, regarding respectively the use of the American flag on foreign vessels and the dangers to neutral shipping in the naval war zone about the British isles, but will stand firmly on its warning against destruction of American lives or vessels.

Many officials who know the situation expect some further move only in the event of an overt act.

This was indicated in high official quarters today after the official texts of the communications had been read. The documents will be further examined, however, to determine whether there is anything in either note which, if not answered now, might be construed later as an admission.

In the case of the note to Great Britain objecting to any general use of the American flag by British vessels, the communication from England was not regarded as altering the original warning of the United States against the measure of responsibility which would seem to be imposed on England if any American vessel or lives were lost as a result of such general practice, although the denial of any intention to make frequent use of the neutral ensign was reassuring to officials.

The American government already, it was pointed out, has stated in emphatic language that Germany would be held to "strict accountability" for any loss of American vessels or lives, and this warning is construed by administration officials to be sufficiently broad also to cover any injury to American citizens aboard belligerent vessels.

The arguments in both the British and German communications charging violations of the rules of international law and warfare, it is held, by American government officials are of no concern to the United States. The breaking down of the doctrines of international law as between the belligerents does not, in the view of high officials here, affect the status of neutrals as between the United States and Great Britain and Germany with whom this country is at peace. The position of the United States is based on the right of a neutral to demand certain treatment for its ships and commerce regardless of the respective actions of the belligerents. Further correspondence with the belligerents is opposed by many high officials on the ground that American government ought not to be drawn into a discussion of charges which Great Britain and Germany have made toward each other.

There is every prospect, however, that the long British note replying to the American protest of December 28 on the subject of contraband will bring forth a rejoinder from the United States. The discussion therein is one of the academic principles of international law and while officials here admit that the commerce of the United States has been treated since much better by the allies than before the protest was sent, they are unwilling to set any precedent by acquiescence in several of the British contentions.

The state department of late has received comparatively few complaints of detentions and seizure and the opinion prevails among officials that the American note has had its desired effect.

As for the note which Great Britain sent on the case of the American steamer Wilhelmina bound for Germany with a cargo of foodstuffs, now held by the British prize court, the state department will enter into no correspondence on the subject, their correspondence has been the customary practice, the decision of the prize court before making diplomatic representations.

The decision of the court is expected, however, to be made within a reasonable length of time and if, in the opinion of the state department, there is a denial of justice to the American owners, a protest will be entered.

Protest was made at a hearing before the insurance committee on Latimore's bill limiting the amount of commissions paid agents on first premiums on life policies to sixty per cent. Orville Thorp of Dallas and L. A. Carlisle of Houston made talks against the bill, declaring it would mean that companies would have to quit business.

Carlton, who is vice president and manager of the Great Southern Life, said he would as soon see his company liquidated as to try to do business under such a law. Further hearing will be had before reporting the bill to the insurance committee.

Flower Bill.
Austin, Feb. 20.—The house committee on private corporations today reported favorably the Flower bill, which allows all oil companies on an equal footing to produce, carry, manufacture and sell oil. The bill provides also for the creation of a petroleum commission, the object of which is to force all oil companies to operate under uniform rules, similar to the railroads, as they operate under jurisdiction of the state railroad commission.

The bill allows the Texas Company the same privilege that it does the small independent concerns. The bill was reported favorably by a vote of 9 to 1.

Without debate the committee also reported favorably the senate committee bill known as the Texas Company bill, by a unanimous vote.

This leaves only four utilities subject to the provisions of the bill, namely, telegraph companies, long distance telephone service and interurban and pipe lines.

The senator insisted that misrepresentations of conditions had been made by mayors and others who had attacked his bill before the committee.

Senator Astin's bill, providing for the retirement of certain state bonds today considered the bill for the support and maintenance of the A. and M. College and appropriating $24,358, was favorably reported by the committee on state affairs.

Darwin's bill amending the game laws to permit hunters to make written certificates that game being carried by them is for their own use, where a notary public is inaccessible, was favorably reported.

Wiley Uniform Bill.

Austin, Feb. 20.—The senate spent practically the entire morning session today considering the Wiley uniform price bill, which seeks to prevent discrimination in the selling or buying of various kinds of products by any firm or individual.

An effort was made to recommit the bill to the commerce committee, but failed and consideration was deferred.

Walter Colquitt Bill.

Austin, Feb. 20.—The governor today signed the Walter Colquitt memorial hospital bill, the measure being senate bill No. 62. This bill provides for the taking over and supporting by the state of this hospital, which is devoted to the treatment of crippled children.

The governor also signed the bill changing the time of holding court in the Third judicial district, composed of Henderson and other counties.

The governor has before him the bill passed a few days ago which provides a heavy penalty for betting on the character of public election. He said he would scrutinize this measure carefully.

The bones, the muscles, and all the organs of the body depend for their strength and tone and healthy action on pure blood.

If the blood is very impure, the bones become diseased; the muscles become enfeebled, the step loses its elasticity, and there is inability to perform the usual amount of labor. The skin loses its clearness, pimples, blotches and other eruptions appear.

INDICEMENT BRINGS TALK END OF CARRANZA

BILL AGAINST LAND OWNER IS ONLY THE BEGINNING,
SAYS CHIEF.

PROMINENT MEN INVOLVED

Grand Jury Keeps Up Probe of Alleged California Revolutionary Move.

Los Angeles, Feb. 20.—The indictment of Harry Chandler, millionaire son-in-law of General Harrison Gray Otis, owner of the Los Angeles Times, on the charge of having endorsed a revolutionary movement against Lower California, brought statements today from General Venustiano Carranza, the constitutionalist leader in Mexico, that prominent men in various parts of the United States probably would be arrested soon on similar charges.

The indictment of Mr. Chandler, Walter Bowker, manager of a great ranch on the California-Mexican border, and five other persons by a federal grand jury was only the beginning of the results of an investigation by the government of the United States, it was asserted by department of justice agents.

The grand jury, it was stated, would continue its investigation of the alleged plot to set up a new government in Lower California, working on information gathered by six government agents who have been here several weeks. This information as first pointed out by agents of General Carranza, whose representative here, Roberto V. Pesqueira, said was conclusive in showing that the alleged conspiracy was nation-wide and had for its object not only the overthrow of present authorities in Lower California but the overthrow of Carranza throughout Mexico and setting up some other Mexican leader more amenable to the wishes of Americans who are heavily interested in the southern republic.

Bryan and Mexican Affairs.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Further representations against the persecution by Carranza officials of priests in Mexico were made today by Secretary Bryan. Consul Canada at Vera Cruz was instructed to appeal directly to General Carranza in behalf of the 180 priests arrested by General Obregon in Mexico City, where they are detained in the national palace. Some of them are reported to be Spaniards and these, it is said, have been threatened with expulsion from the country. Carranza officials demanded five hundred thousand pesos of the priests by a certain time and when it was not forthcoming, told the foreigners among them, according to report, that they would be banished while natives would be held in captivity. It was not known here how many of the 180 priests were Spaniards.

Secretary Bryan said he had been informed that one American and one British priest in Mexico City had not been molested. Railway communication between Mexico City and Vera Cruz cut several days ago, has been restored, the department was notified in a dispatch which said John R. Silliman, the special agent of the United States, prepared today to join Carranza at Vera Cruz.

More Villa Successes.

El Paso, Feb. 20.—Further Villa successes in the west coast country were reported tonight in a telegram from General Villa dated yesterday at Zapotlan, between Guadalajara and Mazatlan, a Pacific port, which is Villa's objective point.

Villa stated that 13,000 of his troops had defeated in the mountains near Guayula a Carranza force which he estimated at 12,000.

Villa declared his losses were 100 killed and 250 wounded, while the Carranza troops lost 1500 killed and a large number of prisoners. Villa said that he was following the enemy at the head of his troops.

The Central railway was cut today between the Juarez-El Paso port and Chihuahua City. Carranza agents here said that a body of 300 men from Coahuila state had entered the Villa territory below this port with the intention of harassing the enemy by cutting railway communication.

Duval West, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico, near General Carranza's state department agent with General Villa's faction, were delayed by the cutting of the railway. The damage done was soon repaired and the train proceeded to Chihuahua City.

The third of what was said to be ten aeroplanes contracted for passed through this port today destined for Villa's army.

5,000 Troops to Monterey.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The Carranza agency here made public tonight the following message from Laredo:

A telegram received here from Ciudad Victoria confirms the news that Generals Olivo and Fortunato Zuazua with 5,000 men and artillery left there to join the constitutionalist attack on Monterey.

A report received here today from Hermanas says that Gen. Manuel Chao was killed at Bajan in a skirmish between the Villa forces and our troops.

General Carrera Torres with all his forces moved to the state of Tamaulipas and San Luis Potosi has surrendered unconditionally to Gen. Pablo Gonzales. Torres' strength is estimated at 4,000 men, which are all now en route to Gen. Gonzales. Torres has been more or less holding aloof from events up until now, as he termed himself a 'conventionalist' after withdrawing from Villa.

Silliman at Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, Feb. 20.—John R. Silliman arrived here tonight from Mexico City and will resume his functions as confidential agent of President Wilson to General Carranza. Since Gen. Carranza came to Vera Cruz the Washington administration has been represented by Consul Canada.

Assurances were given at General Carranza's headquarters here that the same consideration as always accorded him, notwithstanding the fact that as the representative of the state department he had been treating with the authorities at Mexico City.

Plan for Uprising.

Brownsville, Tex., Feb. 20.—It was understood here that the alleged uprising by which Mexicans and negroes hoped to kill all white males over 18, and capture American border stations, was to take place at 2 o'clock this morning, and special peace officers patrolled the streets of towns in this section, while few families slept without arms near them. The day passed quietly.

Carranza Troops Mobilize.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 20.—A message from Laredo, Feb. 20.—Generals Olivo and Fortunato Zuazua with 5,000 men and thirty pieces of artillery

General Chao Killed.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 20.—A message from Hermanas, Coahuila, says that General Manuel Chao had been killed at Bajan while leading a force of skirmishers. Chao was at one time governor of Chihuahua and was replaced by Villa. More recently he was aligned with the Gutierrez faction of the conventionalists.

Princeton Wins Race.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 20.—Princeton won over Michigan in a two mile relay race here tonight with a time of 8 minutes 8 2-5 seconds.

The Princeton runners were Moore, Abba, McKenzie (captain) and Hayes, and the Michigan contestants were Carroll, Fox, Donnelly and Ufer.

Michigan was handicapped by having an inexperienced relay team while all of the visitors were veterans with the exception of Moore.

Merchant Held for Murder.

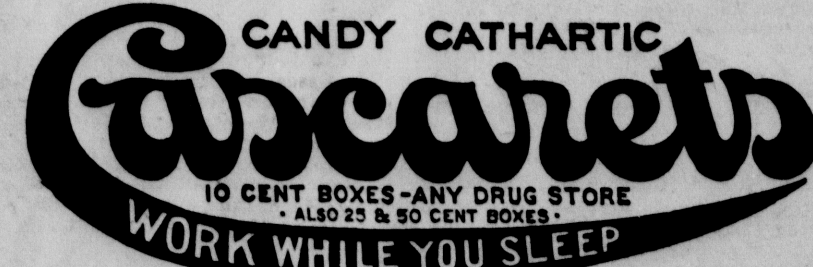

Leesburg, Ga., Feb. 20.—Minter Kennedy, a merchant of Smithville, for whom a warrant had been issued charging murder in connection with the assassination here Wednesday night of A. D. DR. DOYLE EASTLAND
HOST AT THE HUACO CLUB

Friday evening Dr. Doyle Eastland was host at a very pretty spring dinner party out at the Huaco club. This preceded the regular weekly dance and gave special honor to the presence of four popular visiting girls in the Mesdames Winifred Otis and Lucretia Crawford of Chicago, Bonner Means of Houston and Helen Ball of Kansas. The rather unusual combination of color was quite effective. In this a center of the red rose and the gold of the golden piquant was contrasted at the plates by the sweet violet and the lily valley sprayed with its green leaf. In plate favors these blooms made a corsage for each woman's plate and a boutonniere for each man's. Other than the quartette of honorees, Dr. Eastland entertained the Mesdames Mabel Chambers, and Marian Duncan with Ross Padgett, C. B. McCollum, Wilbur Crawford, Langdon Luedde, W. D. Lacy, Jr. The merry dinner company resolved into a dancing coterie upstairs.

STUDENTS INTERESTED IN PRIZES FOR ESSAYS

Students at the high school are now interested in the three annual prizes offered. These are cash, and come from the Colonial Dames of Texas, the Gary West chapter and W. E. Darden, former principal of the high school.

Mrs. W. E. Darden is state chairman of the Colonial Dame prizes. Fourteen schools of Texas are now on the list, each receiving its cash donation of ten dollars for the best essay written upon some subject pertaining to Colonial days. The W. E. Darden prize is offered through the Darden Literary society, and members of this body only are eligible. The Mary West chapter has a committee of three to assist subject. Students are already interested and are gathering data for essays. Mothers should encourage their boys and girls to enter the contest. Whether the prize is won or not, the student has gained knowledge, and the mechanical practice in essay writing. All this is of more permanent benefit and really more worth while than the actual gift of five or ten dollars.

TWO SURPRISE LUNCHEONS
FOR WEEK-END PLEASURES

Twice late in the week was a surprise given, and a happy surprise, as a birthday celebration. In the first, Mrs. John L. Dyer was complimented by her daughters, Mrs. Edgar Katifal and Miss Grace Dyer with a beautiful luncheon. Ten lifelong friends of the mother were invited and other arrangements made before Mrs. Dyer surprised the pleasure in store for her birthday. In dressing their luncheon tastefully placed. In this pretty room of fresh ivy tendrils. These twined about the electrolite and dropped in grace toward the center of the table, where the myriads of sweet violets and the white freshia was embedded. In keeping with the silvered locks, the lavender and its deeper shade of violet was freely used. The violet reappeared on the place cards. Maline was tastefully placed. In this pretty room around this pretty table, a congenial circle spent a delightful hour. Invited were the Mesdames J. W. Mann, John G. Kendall, Thomas Primant, Harry West, R. L. Cartwright, George Morse, Harriet Morse, Z. F. Beasley.

And it was next for Mrs. Walter Reese to encounter a happy birthday surprise, a luncheon, too. She was invited to spend the day, just the old-fashioned all-day visit, with Mrs. Max Koench. But, invigiled as Mrs. Reese was, she found a happy deception. This was luncheon guests and a beautiful table service, the friendship tribute from Mrs. Koench.

The Lenten season found accent in a wealth of the sweet violet, while the reminder that the Father of our Country is honored on Monday came in the plate cards. The real celebration, though, was the birthday cake with its gleam of the birthday candle, the first intimation to be given Mrs. Reese that she was an honoree. Mrs. Koench selected to enjoy her five-course table service, and the affection, with Mrs. Reese, her new neighbor, Mrs. B. C. Nettles, together with the old neighbors of the hostess, and present neighbors of her honoree, the Mesdames P. G. Taylor, B. B. Bray, E. H. Harden, E. L. Farley.

MRS. P. JACK SANGER
ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

As one of the special pleasures for out-of-town guests within the homes of her friends, Mrs. P. Jack Sanger formed a game of bridge from these friends, their hostesses, and a few matrons within her family. Thus five tables made a spirited game while several non-players enjoyed the more quiet conversation. All taking a turn for the consolation cut, the favor fell to one of the spectators, Mrs. Walter Duff of Ferris. The high score favor went to Mrs. Sam Freund. Mrs. Sanger's provision for pleasure as well as her pretty little devices for making her rooms attractive, was pronounced.

The guests were the Mesdames Nettie Haber, Lowenberg of Missouri, Madeline Marks of Groesbeck, with the Mesdames Freund, Duff, Asher Sanger, Alex Sanger, Ray Rowell, B. Haber, Bloomenstiel of Louisiana, Alfred Godshaw, Lehman Sanger, Ben

GOVERNOR'S SALARY AND EXPENSES.

Regardless of the merit or lack of merit in the fight which Representative Middleton is making on the "punch and salad" items contained in the deficiency bill for the gubernatorial mansion during the last administration of Governor Colquitt—and there are many good and well-informed people on each side of the proposition—there is an urgent need for straightening out the matter of the governor's salary and the appurtenances for the upkeep of the mansion.

In an interesting article on this subject in the Dallas News Tom Finty, Jr., points out the manner in which the appropriations for the governor's mansion have gradually increased, due to the coming of inventions and improvements, and to what Mr. Finty does not mention except by inference, the growth of the spirit of extravagance, not alone at the governor's mansion but everywhere. Telephones, gas and electricity for light and fuel, and other things of that kind have come into general use since the present constitution was adopted fixing the governor's salary at $4000 and giving him the free use of the mansion and its fixtures. By general consent, light, gas and water fixtures have been interpreted to come within the constitutional limitations, along with the utilities furnished through these fixtures, and the tendency toward larger expenditures has grown to include everything needed for the upkeep of the mansion—housekeeper, laborer, groceries, pianos, violas, and finally, chicken salad and punch.

No one will deny that the governor's mansion should be maintained in comfort and dignity, but this should be done through an appropriation of a specific sum for a specific period, and not through deficiency warrants. Governor Colquitt's expenses for the past two years have been double those of any other governor of the state, the salary paid him for the last two years and the appropriations made for the upkeep of the mansion being $29,685, or $3,485 more than it cost for the whole four years in which Governor Campbell occupied the mansion and the executive office. We recognize, of course, that the cost of living has advanced some, even since the Campbell administration, but it has not doubled, and we see no occasion for this very marked increase in the operating expenses of the mansion. It might be stated, in passing, and in justice to Mr. Colquitt, that $2,000 of this sum was for the governor's traveling expenses.

If Governor Ferguson should demand as large a proportionate increase over Mr. Colquitt as Mr. Colquitt did over Mr. Campbell, then we will be called upon to pay more than $58,000 in governor's salary and upkeep of the mansion during the next two years. But we do not anticipate Mr. Ferguson will be that extravagant.

The governor of a large and wealthy state like Texas should be paid an ample salary, one in keeping with the demands that are made upon him and his family. We do not think $10,000 per year would be an excessive figure. Then a fair allowance should be made for the upkeep of the mansion, but we do believe the steward of the mansion should exercise more business judgment in the purchase of supplies than to order them through the Driskill hotel at much higher prices than the same goods could be purchased directly from dealers and caterers. And with a salary of $10,000 the governor could purchase the groceries for the mansion on his own account, leaving to the state expense only such items as are directly involved in furnishing and maintaining the mansion.

We do not relish scandals, but if Representative Middleton's fight on the "punch and salad" items in the deficiency bill will bring about a better salary for the governor and a more business-like handling of the upkeep of the governor's mansion, it will have served a very useful purpose.

ECONOMY AND PROSPERITY.

Those were wise words which J. A. Pondrom of Houston, president of the Texas Bankers' Association, uttered before the Fourth District Bankers' convention at Marlin Thursday, in which he told the delegates that no matter how efficient the federal reserve bank system might prove, it could not bring prosperity so long as the American people persist in living beyond their incomes. The most the federal reserve system can do to forestall panics, as we understand it, is to prevent the accumulation of the country's reserves at one point and their control there by a close interlocking power of a few men, and to provide a more elastic system of credits and a more liquid system of assets than we have had before.

But a banking system, no matter how efficient, can not make times good for everybody when everybody has been spending more than his income; and the people of this country who have been told of the great efficiency of the systems of currency of which the Bank of London and the Bank of France are the heads, must realize that the people of those countries have not gone to the great extremes in the lavish expenditure of money which has characterized us Americans. "We have been using the yard-stick when we should have measured by the inch-rule," Mr. Pondrom declared, and he was right. While we all want to see better times, and believe they have already begun to arrive, we must continue our war-enforced economy for a while longer if we would see normal conditions fully restored.

This needed economy should begin in congress and the state legislatures and extend on down to the private affairs of the humblest individuals. Men and women, too, should have an active part in the program of retrenchment, not upon the necessities of life, but upon the luxuries.

Indicative of the part woman should play in the effort to get back to better times, Edward Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, says in part: "For the first time the present generation is being taught economy: a lesson that every American, young and old, sadly needs. Our national extravagance has been criminal, and it has been fostered by all classes. Abnormal expenses have been regarded as normal; the word 'economy' has been distasteful to us; luxuries have become necessities; the finest lesson that has ever come to humanity—that of learning with how little we can do—we have known not. The shrinking of thousands of incomes has forced our attention upon these questions, and the effect has been salutary and will even be more so before the war ends. And with the close of the war, whenever this be, this condition will not cease. It will have only begun. The American woman must be prepared for an economic re-adjustment, all along the line of her purchasing power, that is bound to be forced upon her, and the time when she should begin to accustom herself to the new order of things is now. We have been sobered; we have come to a new realization of values, both as individuals and as a nation. We are through, for a long time to come, in this country, with the haphazard and unintelligent spending of money. The American housewife is to be asked for an accounting: not of the cents and dollars themselves, but as to her ability to be the national spender of those cents and dollars. The 'new housekeeping' is here and it means wiser and more rational standards."

Mr. Bok was writing primarily to the women. What he says might apply with equal force to the men. There is room for men, women and children to economize, and they must do so, but with the right kind of co-operation in the families this retrenchment can be directed against those things which are luxuries and not necessities. Under such a program none will suffer. On the other hand, all will benefit.

THE WHOLE STORY AGAIN.

Here is the complete account of a Connecticut winter tragedy as told by the New York Times:

"Arthur Davis, a fisherman of Greenport, L. I., reported tonight that a small boat was picked up off Fisher's Island this noon containing bodies of two men who had been frozen. The boat contained six frozen ducks, two guns, and an empty jug labeled 'Fisher & Levy, wholesale liquor dealers, Hartford.'"

"There was nothing on the bodies to identify them and no oars were found in the boat."

There are many ways of committing suicide in cold weather—but how do such facts as these square up with the booze-booster's bill-board praises of whiskey as the Sportman's Stimulant? pertinently inquires Collier's Weekly.

It is stated that Alaska's products in 1914 totaled $42,660,000. And, contrary to general belief, the sea yielded more than its mines. Its fisheries produced $23,000,000, and mines over $19,000,000. Pretty good investment for Uncle Sam, observes the Shreveport Times. In 1867 we bought Alaska for $7,200,000. In a single year this sum is returned nearly six-fold. In the less than 50 years we have had Alaska its cost has been returned many hundredfold. And its storehouse of natural resources has scarcely been tapped as yet. For scientific wonders, it is also one of the world's treasure houses. Glaciers, mountains, waterfalls, rivers, valleys—no wonder tourist travel to Alaska is steadily increasing.

For the benefit of those who have broken their New Year resolutions we would suggest that a resolve to imitate George Washington's immortal example would be in perfect accord with the patriotic impulses that we feel at his birthday and would also correspond to the spirit of these Lenten days.

PROTECTING THE BLIND CHILDREN.

Every citizen of Texas ought to rejoice that the state senate has passed a measure providing for the sale of the group of fire-trap buildings that now constitute the home of the blind charges of this state, and the erection elsewhere in Austin of a modern structure that shall not only be fire-proof and properly safeguard the limbs of the children by reducing the risk of accidents, but which will protect their health as well by making the structure thoroughly sanitary.

These fire-traps have disgraced the name of Texas too long already and only an exceptional good fortune has preserved the school for the blind children from flames, which the character of the buildings too readily invited, and a consequent disaster that would have shocked the sensibilities of the entire country. The blind children, of all the state's charges, should be removed from the hazard of fire. And they are just as much entitled to freedom from disease, which the unsanitary condition of the buildings they have been occupying has invited, as they are from fire.

Times are not propitious for large expenditures of the state's money at the hands of the legislature, it is true, but the case of the blind children is one that should not be permitted to wait. The present site and buildings will sell for approximately $150,000, the dispatches tell us, while the bill passed by the senate contemplates the appropriation of $435,000 during the next two years to further carry out the plan for a new site and modern buildings.

No more useful bill has been proposed in the present legislature and we hope the house will concur in the senate bill and make adequate provision for the worthy blind children whose lives have been endangered too long already. Killing a few of the bills to create costly commissions and many other high-salaried offices in the state would make ample allowance for the proper care of the blind children, and the legislature will be recreant to its duty unless this needed relief is afforded.

TRY THE HOD CURE.

Poor Mrs. Russell Gair of Flushing, L. I., is very unhappy about her boy, Aleck, and it is too bad, observes the New Orleans States. Aleck will not work. Moreover, he has run away with and married a young girl, without his mother's consent, and Mrs. Gair feels that she must now let him shift for himself, which means shifting for the bride, too. It is this way, in poor Mrs. Gair's own words: "Every wish of Alexander's has been gratified since he was a baby. He grew wearied of his studies. He contracted the habit of smoking cigarettes and we couldn't break him of it. He would not settle down to business, but lived like a prince. Yet we can not sanction his marrying without some visible means of support except my check book."

Of course, we want to help this poor mother. Our advice is that she sanction anything that Alexander does. He has been brought up to it. When Mrs. Gair gratified Aleck's every wish and provided for his living like a prince, she laid the foundations for the cigarettes, the unsettled business condition, his crime of marrying a girl, or any other crime, and she must not object if Aleck's only visible means of support continue to be her check book. Mothers who start at the cradle to raise their boys to expect everything they ask for must not complain if at maturity or thereabouts the boys innocently plunge into the horrors of moneyless matrimony.

It is perfectly natural, and hence, right, that Aleck, having had every wish gratified since babyhood, should look upon a wife as just another of the little gratifications that is up to mother. How, indeed, could one continue living like a prince without a wife and invisible means of support?

We really wish that we could aid Mrs. Gair in curing Alexander of his carefully matured shortcomings. Wouldn't it help if he gave up living like a prince and went to work like a hod-carrier? Maybe work is the very thing. We recommend work. We have seen it cure so many cases of princely living, idleness and lack of visible means of support. We always like to prescribe work. We are in this respect like the good old pioneer doctor who could cure any ailment just as soon as it could be thrown into a case of fits. By all means, good woman, buy Aleck a hod.

The "honor men band," composed of thirty prisoners of the Illinois penitentiary, will play for a union revival at Joliet today. Why not? A man living a decent life in prison is better equipped for promoting the service of God than a man outside who is living an indecent life.

Governor Ferguson's first veto was a very sound one. There is no reason why private individuals should profit from sand and other matter taken out of state waters without reimbursing the state, and we are glad the governor blocked the scheme.

That man who committed murder five years ago, and who escaped the officers until the advent of the Lenten season induced him to go and surrender, entered into the spirit as well as the letter of the period.

Our congratulations to Speaker John W. Woods of the lower house of the Texas legislature on his ruling that a "local option" compulsory education bill would not be a compulsory education bill at all.

Frank James consigned his body to be burned, following his death. We hope a better fate awaits his soul.

STUDY SUFFRAGE CLUB

TO MEET ON THURSDAY

It is announced that, on next Thursday afternoon, the Study Suffrage club will give program in the library. The public generally is invited to be present. Two subjects of vital interest to Texas just now will be presented. The Smith-Lever bill is one of deep interest to both men and women. This bill appropriates a large sum for improvement of rural conditions, and the women are using their influence for its passage. It is applied to the rural home, so that the women and the children may derive benefit as well as the soil. Also, the two most vital subjects now before the state legislature are the compulsory education bills and the child labor laws. These are closely allied, since the welfare of the Texas youth is the basis of both.

The club has invited Judge W. E. Spell to discuss the Smith-Lever bill. Mr. William McCull will read a paper giving the present status of the compulsory education and the child labor laws, for this state.

The Study Suffrage club hopes both men and women will be their guests for this session.

THE UNITED STATES FLAG

FROM EVERY WACO HOME

Never in the history of our observance of the Washington birthday has there been such incentive to honor the flag of our nation which George Washington first used. With the foreign nation in disension, and our American flag guarded so carefully by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, is it not meet that Waco show her pride and loyalty to the American emblem of courage and bravery by displaying it from every home? We hope the Henry Downs chapter will take the precaution that every public flag in our schools and parks is unfurled; also, we hope that every home in this city and every business house will have the wave of Old Glory at its door. It needs not the elaborate piece of silk to tell of our loyalty to the Red, White and Blue. Any design of the Stars and Stripes in a sign, or a pennant, or a Washington who selected the design for our nation's emblems. Tomorrow is George Washington's birthday. So, it is hoped that every house in the city will honor the emblem he selected to represent our country, and then combine into one grand lesson for the Waco youth.

SACRED HEART JUNIORS

ENTERTAIN THE SENIORS

One of the very pleasant affairs of the past week was a reception given by the graduates of the Academy of the Sacred Heart were entertained by the juniors in the spacious library which was artistically decorated with hearts and ferns. The first part of the afternoon was passed in a social game of Hearts. The girls found their places by beautiful hand-painted score cards, featuring the class flower, sweet pea. Miss Rose Grady won the prize which was a lovely box of crepe de chine handkerchiefs of the class colors, pink and white. Then a salad course was served. After this the girls were ushered into the hall which was also beautifully decorated. There they enjoyed several hours of dancing. Misses Geraldine Hopkins and Mary Lane presided over the punch bowl.

Those who enjoyed the afternoon were: Mary Gorman, Wilma Shaffer, Clemmie Tate, Katherine O'Neil, Rose Grady, Annette Nethery, Jewel Wortham, Blanche Dupree, Francis Hopkins, Rosa Lee Downey, Rose McCormick, Lyle McCormick, Mary Lane, Geraldine Hopkins, Ale Spence, Ella Adams, Grace Brothers, Sue Mitchiner, Faye McGraw, Alice Harlan, Rosalie Ketton, Veneta Eoff, Mattie Brown, Josephine Lovelady.

A WACO STYLE SHOW

HAS BEEN SUGGESTED

I. A. Goldstein, at a recent men's meeting, suggested a style show for this city. The women say, "Go ahead, Mr. Goldstein; we applaud the idea." Nothing would be more attractive than such a venture, and, if the merchants do not launch it it would be a wonderful financial harvest for any organization who would give even the embryo. A style show? Where does the possibility exist? The living objects of millinery, modistes, the service, the automobile equipment, the florist design, the field is as far reaching as man's endeavor in trade. Waco is peculiarly adapted for such with her Cotton Palace and the booths seen, and other attractions enjoyed, there is the mammoth ball room for the pleasure side. The writer reverts to her first trip abroad when the Style Show was on in the women's building of the Paris Exposition. Here Worth, Paquin, Felix, and the then famous costumers, each had a section. The women did not turn to the pages of fashion books; they did not seek their shops and designers. They merely promenade down this aisle. The figures were the latest creations and were in latest style to the smallest detail in dress. The sight was, indeed, a well as pleasure. The possibility of a Style Show advances every idea, beauty, utility, home, person, anything which is the latest. The women at least accept Mr. Goldstein's suggestion favorably. They hope to have the excitement of a real, sure enough Style Show this spring.

Mrs. Nathan Naman is twice card hostess within the coming week. Her first game forms with Tuesday. The high school students will have a George Washington program in the assembly hall on Monday morning.

The hostess for the Review club on Tuesday afternoon will be Mrs. Forrest Jackson, 2101 Morrow street, 3 o'clock.

The East Side Home Talent company scored success with every detail in its play for sweet charity on Friday evening.

The Euterpean club has postponed its open session until Monday, the twenty-ninth. This was to have been a week earlier.

Is not the first fragrance from the blossoming plum tree delicious? And how many have heard the first notes from the spring songbird?

The unusually small attendance at the Huaco club dance on Friday night from the fact that the highest degree, he commended a perpetually fluctuating army, almost wholly destitute of discipline and respect for authority, torn by the most violent and unscrupulous feuds, wretchedly armed, wretchedly clothed and sometimes in imminent danger of starvation. Unsupported for the most part of the population among whom he was quartered, and incessantly thwarted by the jealousy of congress, he kept his army together by a combination of skill, firmness, patience and judgment which has rarely been surpassed, and he led it at last to a signal triumph. In civil and in military life, he was preeminent among his contemporaries for the clearness and soundness of his judgment, for his perfect moderation and self-control, for his quietness and unassuming firmness, with which he pursued every path which he had deliberately chosen. Of all the great men in history he was the most invariably just, and there is scarcely a rash word or action or judgment recorded of him. Those who knew him well noticed that he had keen sense and a keen eye for the hidden power of self-command never feigned him, and no act of his public life can be traced to personal caprice, ambition, or resentment.

Among the musical numbers, much enjoyed, at the Parcel Post reception last Thursday, was that of Mrs. Adkins, director of her last poem some original verses on "George Washington."

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Gaylord notified home family and friends promptly of progress on their wedding journey, which includes the interesting sights of New Orleans, where they now are.

In recognition of calls made at a house of mourning in due time, acknowledgment should be made of calls and cards of condolence, by inclosing the black-bordered visiting card. This is sufficient.

Do remember the parkway as well as the inside yard, when the spring planting season is here. Until Waco's parking is in apple order, Waco need never again boast of being a progressive city with civic pride.

Miss Ethel Standifer returns from South America with the closing of her classes in June. She remains at home permanently; at least, her large piano class and her unremitting labor will retain her among her home friends for a much needed rest.

The South Side Mothers club is busy as ever during the next few months. This means a fund begun with which to give the children of the school a piano when the September term opens. Following this idea, the club will sell tickets all next week for the Queen of the Year contest. New members are enlisting, and it is the plan of these mothers to work all through vacation days.

Waco hostesses owe it to each other to observe similar hours. For instance, if there is to be a game of bridge, why not make the uniform hour 3 o'clock in the winter? This would be more than convenient. When one has all sorts of hours, it is confusing to the guests and entails useless interruptions in our shopping district. If it is to be a luncheon, why not 1 o'clock? And so on.

The Waco women, especially those who are accustomed to city life, have remarked upon the paragraphs in The News concerning the adoption of city custom in our shopping district. This is the two movement on the sidewalk. We force the "keep to the right" movement for our vehicle; why not for the pedestrian? Nothing imparts a better impression to the stranger than the larger city; nothing is more conducive to expeditious passage in the downtown district. Then, we must let the good work go on. Already, the signs are favorable. Just a little time and time packages received a tobacco spray within the street car! Those packages were not dainty by the time they were delivered. Some women object to the expediting because it is an expensive object because it necessitates them, but by far the greater number object because it defies the public vehicles and thoroughfares of the city in which they feel so much pride. Hence, the signs are favorable from the powers that be, but, so far, it has been promise only.

The women have complained about the violation of the expectorating ordinance until they are weary and worn out with old service. At yet the expectorating goes on. And holiday time is no exception. Yesterday a lady of fine taste and taste packages received a tobacco spray within the street car! Those packages were not dainty by the time they were delivered. Some women object to the expediting because it is an expensive object because it necessitates them, but by far the greater number object because it defies the public vehicles and thoroughfares of the city in which they feel so much pride. WONDERFUL GROWTH ENJOYED BY YMCA'S OFFICERS ELECTED

REPORTS MADE AT CONVENTION
AT COLLEGE STATION SHOW
GOOD WORK.

College Station, Tex., Feb. 20.—Wonderful growth has been enjoyed by the forty-two associations of the Texas Young Men's Christian associations, according to reports made today by the state committee to the convention now in session at the A. & M. college.

The state committee's report constituted a feature of today's session. Included in the forty-two organizations are nine city, ten railroad and twenty-three college organizations. The total membership is 14,180, of which 4,342 are active members. The average daily attendance at buildings of city and railroad associations was 1,409, there were 213 lectures and practical talks delivered and 210 members in educational clubs, 497 situations were secured, 776 different members enrolled in evening classes, 5,086 different members used the physical departments of the city and railroad associations. The association conducted 690 shop meetings at the noon hour and the enrollment of different students in Bible classes was 2,995. The attendance at all religious gatherings was 149,166 with 129 professed conversions recorded. The total valuation of the twenty-one buildings and lots is $1,443,526 with unprovided indebtedness of $104,000—7 per cent. The endowments are now $21,000. There are seventy-six employed officers in the associations. Splendid progress in improvements in buildings and in new buildings was reported.

Under the leadership of John L. Hunter, the college work is gaining rapidly. There are 1,100 college men enrolled in voluntary Bible classes. Much work is being done with the older boys of the community.

Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas delivered his last address this morning, making a powerful appeal to the men to follow Christ.

Speaking forces of the convention have been strengthened materially by the arrival of G. S. Billheimer, executive secretary of the international committee for the southwest. At tonight's session Mr. Billheimer told how that association men may make the work of the organization of vital importance. Dr. George J. Fisher, Houston, secretary, and James Whitmore told of the work of the older boys. Possibilities of the college association were explained by Charles B. Hursey.

Officers have been elected as follows: Dr. W. B. Riley, San Antonio, chairman; Dr. M. V. Bizzell, A. & M. college, vice chairman; R. H. Shuttles, Dallas, vice chairman; C. E. Page, Houston, secretary; E. W. Glenn, Ennis, assistant secretary, and Jesse Wilson, from the University of Texas, assistant secretary.

Steel Company Says Nothing.
South Bethlehem, Pa., Feb. 20.—None of the officials of the Bethlehem Steel company would say anything today in regard to the complaints made by the German and Austrian governments that the steel company is participating in the building of sections of submarines for shipments to England.

As the company has large contracts for guns and gun carriages for European countries the entire plant is closely guarded and silence as to the company's business is the rule among its officials.

Faces As Fair As An Orchid

Are Possible When Stuart's Calcium
Wafers Are Used After Meals to Clean Up Skin Eruptions and Discolorations.

When a face is covered with blotches, liver spots, pimples, blackheads, etc., Stuart's Calcium Wafers will act like some magical charm. However, there is nothing magical about them. They are nature's own way of cleansing the human blood and preventing it from filling the surface of the body—the skin—with pimples and little skin eruptions.

"With a Face as Fair as a Day in June."

The abolishing of all skin disorders must begin with the blood. Lotions, salves, cosmetics, etc., will do no material good. The trouble comes from within and there the remedy must be applied.

If you really desire quick action and at the same time a common sense, natural, harmless blood purifier, then Stuart's Calcium Wafers is this remedy.

The correct and best blood purifier known to science is—Calcium Sulphate. This great cleanser is contained in proper quantities in Stuart's Calcium Wafers and that is why all blood troubles and skin blemishes rapidly disappear after their use.

An unsightly and pimply face due to impure blood is one of the most disgusting sights one can see, and yet all about us, upon the streets, in the theatre, when traveling, etc., we see these horrible results.

There is no need for this condition if you will take Stuart's Calcium Wafers daily and keep all salves, lotions, cosmetics and other harmful preparations from clogging the pores.

Every first-class druggist in this country carries Stuart's Calcium Wafers, which are pleasant to take, harmless, and may be obtained for 50 cents a box. A small sample package will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., 175 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

CITY MANAGER PLAN WILL BE DISCUSSED BY Y M B L TUESDAY

One of the principal matters to come up at the meeting of the directors of the Y. M. B. L. Tuesday night will be the report and discussion on the city manager plan. A committee consisting of Robert Frazier, chairman, J. M. Pennington, secretary, and W. W. Woodson, to investigate and to report on this proposed change in the city charter, will be made up after December, the present charter having been adopted in December, 1912.

The committee probably will suggest that the change be made. The report will also submit a tentative plan. The directors hope to sound public sentiment, and to go well into the benefits which are said to be derived from the city manager plan.

According to a letter from H. B. Williams, representative from this district to the Y. M. B. L. of Waco, he will oppose the bill now pending before the legislature which provides that local telephone exchanges be placed under state supervision. In his letter he says: "I shall oppose the bill, for it proposes to take charge of the local exchanges in incorporated cities. I have not made up my mind about the bill which proposes to place long distance lines under the control of the railroad commission, but my impression now is that the interests in Texas are not in a financial condition at this time to be interfered with. I think we should be careful about a matter of this nature."

Mills' Candidacy Is Waco's Opportunity

That a crisis exists in the political history of Waco has assumed the aspect of a certainty. Nearly every taxpayer will concede that the woe of the city is involved in the primary election to be held next Tuesday. Questions of monumental importance will come up for solution during the next few years and the vital importance of Waco will need a man at the head of the financial department who is known to be wise and experienced in fiduciary matters. The position of finance commissioner is one of the most important of the duties which require not alone undoubted integrity and faithful watchfulness, but mental training of a sort that will enable him to grasp every public question in the interest of the taxpayer.

Even should the city decide to adopt the city manager plan the duties of finance commissioner would not be lessened nor would his responsibilities be transferred. The city manager could do nothing without money and it would be just as important to conserve the finances of the city and to close every item of expense then the duties of each of the other commissioners might be transferred to the city manager but one of those devolving upon the finance commissioner could be taken away from him.

On the contrary his duties and responsibilities would be increased and the importance of his position enhanced. The tax payers of Waco can not afford to neglect the opportunity they now have in the candidacy of Seth P. Mills, to choose a finance commissioner who has demonstrated his fitness for the position and whose well known conservatism and prudence in public affairs leaves no doubt as to his being the right man for the place.

Waco has always maintained an exalted position among financiers enjoying a credit second to no city in the country. This position must be maintained in future, yet the continuance of public improvements must not be checked. To guard with jealous care the credit of the city and at the same time so manage the finances as to keep the departments supplied with funds necessary to meet the requirements of a growing city will be the task of the next finance commissioner and it is not going to be an easy one. Owing to the peculiar conditions existing most present day offices will require most extraordinary talent. Seth Mills is fully equipped for the task. His successful experience in that line leaves no doubt on that score and the people of Waco will compliment themselves by electing him next Tuesday to pilot them through the mazes of a crucial financial period.—Adv.

Musical Concert Date Is Changed

The Baraca and Philathea classes of the City Federation have decided to change the date of the musical concert which the organization has been arranging from March 15 to March 22. On this date a program of standard overtures, descriptive and novelty songs, vocal solos and readings will be a full chorus of local talent will be rendered in Carroll Chapel of Baylor university. The concert will be under the direction of Prof. August Bettis. A band composed of local Baracas will be one of the chief features of the evening.

Various members of the classes have been working on the concert for some weeks and the idea has received the staunch support of the entire city organization.

The concert is somewhat of a venture on the part of the federation to give variety and added interest to their organization of the activities of the Baracas and Philatheas.

VANDERBILT FIGHT HAS BEEN ADJUDGED

EDUCATIONAL COMMISSION OF M. E. CHURCH SOUTH GIVES UP CONTEST.

COURT DENIES THE CLAIM

Decision Is Then Made to Build at Atlanta and Dallas—Candler Chairman.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 20.—The educational commission of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in session here today decided to abandon the contest for control of Vanderbilt university and to devote all its energies to the rebuilding of the educational institutions to be established by the church at Atlanta, Ga., and Dallas, Texas.

Claims of the church to jurisdiction over Vanderbilt university were denied by the Tennessee supreme court several years ago and the commission was empowered by the last general assembly of the church to finally dispose of the controversy, either by the transfer to the eight original patronizing conferences of whatever rights the church might retain and the institution of further litigation, or by the abandonment of the contest. The latter course was decided upon, the commission finding that as a result of the decision of the Tennessee court it was "wholly without power to transfer anything either right, title or interest to the patronizing conferences."

"So believing," the commission declared in resolutions adopted, "the commission is unwilling to stultify itself by the execution of a worthless transfer and is further unwilling to authorize the institution of any further suits in futile litigation."

"But in so doing," the resolutions continue, "the commission desires to voice a final protest against manipulations by which Vanderbilt has been lost to the church."

Representatives of the patronizing conferences attended today's meeting and concurred in the action taken by the commission.

Bishop Candler of Atlanta, Ga., acted as chairman of the conference which adjourned tonight.

Winfield Scott's Grandson in Texas

Namesake of General Who Freed Texas and Southwest From Mexicans Is Studebaker Manager.

A grandson and namesake of General Winfield S. Scott, the gallant soldier who led the American forces in freeing Texas and the southwest from Mexican rule, has just settled in Dallas. He is Winfield Scott Williams, himself a former Texas ranchman and constable, and a member of the Spanish-American war. He has just been appointed manager of the great Studebaker corporation of America, the makers of the popular Studebaker touring cars and automobiles.

His varied experiences will qualify him to represent the Studebaker company, which has sent him to Dallas to carry on through the Dallas branch. As a boy, Mr. Williams punched cattle in the state. Then followed a winter in the Philippines and China. After that he was transferred to Alaska, where he was a "dog kennel" and a "bush" writer. He then opened an office in San Francisco as a consulting engineer. Here he passed through the fire and aided in the rebuilding of the city.

Mr. Williams and his associates organized the Concrete Products Corporation of America, a company engaged in the manufacture and sale of concrete water pipe and sewer pipe and other concrete specialties. This business led to the Williams' association with the Hill Pump Valve company of Chicago, which manufactures machine parts, pumps for automobiles, and other specialties. His capacity was that of business missionary and sales organizer. He established agencies through the eastern half of the United States and organized the company's selling methods.

Mr. Williams had occasion to visit practically every large automobile manufacturing plant east of the Mississippi river, and in this way became conversant with their various methods. It was after such a tour that he decided to enter the automobile business and immediately took steps to associate himself with their organization.

With such a wealth of experience, pointing Mr. Williams to his present important position of branch manager at Dallas, it is not surprising that he is one of the greatest manufacturing organizations in the world, and Mr. Williams is being congratulated by his friends because of the confidence reposed in him.

SATURDAY BIG DAY FOR SOME 200 BOYS

Next Saturday will be a big day for some 200 McLennan county boys, for it is then that E. F. Drake, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is planning to distribute the pigs to the boys who are to become hog raisers, on a small scale, under his tutelage. The boys will have their pictures taken, together with Mr. Drake and the newspaper men who helped make the movement a success, after which each youngster will take his pig home.

The "Buy-a-Pig" movement is exciting comment and curiosity all over the county. Letters were received from a number of states last week, inquiring as to how the plan worked out. It is simply that the business men of Waco are buying the pigs and selling them to the boys. Each youngster must have permission from his parents and recommendations from his teacher. Then he signs a note for the value of the pig, payable after the pig is raised and sold this fall.

Some very curious letters were received by Mr. Drake from small boys over the county. For instance, a boy wrote from Ross:

"I am a McLennan county school boy and I want in on the boy and pig move."

From Moody came the following: "I would like to join the other boys in raising a pig. I am 11 years old."

Walker Rucker of Lorena writes: "I read your advertisement in the paper, and I am willing to except your offer about the pig and would like to start as soon as possible for I am very much interested in the matter."

"I would like to try raising a pig," writes Joe Devany of Axtell. "I'm 14 years old, and I am willing to take great interest in raising one pig."

Lawrence Teat of Elm Mott writes: "I am a little boy 5 years old and I see your proposition how a little boy could get a pig. I sure want to buy one for myself."

From Bosqueville came the following: "I am a little boy 6 years old. I live on a big farm and would like to have a pig to raise. I think I would like to feed the pig and watch him grow." Clifford Scott was the writer.

Charlie Young of Axtell writes that he is "willing to raise a pig on my own hook."

The above are samples. All of the boys are enthusiastic and their enthusiasm has permeated everybody affiliated with the movement. And the boys will get their pigs next Saturday.

Sanger Brothers Annual Style Show

Sanger Brothers formal opening and style show will take place Friday and Saturday, March 5 and 6.

With M. Fromm's return from the market, Sanger Brothers make the announcement that they have again secured experienced models that will come here from New York City for the purpose of presenting in an exclusive manner the beautiful new gowns, suits, dresses, skirts, waists and millinery at the Sanger style show this spring.

Sanger Brothers have the distinction of being the first concern in Texas to have used the services of experienced models to present new styles in women's apparel at their formal openings and style shows each season. The Sanger store left nothing to be desired in the way of high class merchandise, decorative features and thoroughness generally in connection with these events, but the additional feature of experienced living models is an attraction that has made these events greater and wider in scope than ever before.

Sanger formal openings and style shows never fail to attract people from all parts of Central Texas, and it is safe to say that this spring's style show will be no exception in this particular. Aside from the experienced living model feature, the formal opening this year is planned on an even more elaborate scale than has been before.

Mr. Fromm, buyer and manager of the ladies' misses' and children's ready-to-wear department of the Sanger store, has been East, where he has been selecting the new styles and fashions for spring. He was among the first of the southern buyers to enter the markets and one of the last to leave, which gave him a decided advantage of being on the ground from the time the first creations came out up to the time that the last change and final stamp of approval had been placed on the new styles for Spring 1915.

Mr. Fromm says that regardless of the European conditions, his department will show many beautiful creations from the famous style source, the Rue de la Paix, as well as from creators of fashion whose designing rooms are in London. He states also that the Sanger store will show as many if not more than the usual large and extensive line of creations from the famous American designers with the European gowns and costumes Americanized, as well as exact copies of the designs of the European artisans.

Ranger Force Increased.

Austin, Feb. 20.—The state ranger force is to be immediately increased for the protection of the border from depredations by Mexican marauders, according to the governor. He said that the entire appropriation for that purpose will be used to increase the force. For the present the increase will be five. This action is based on complaints from citizens living along the Rio Grande border.

Plan Being Made to Attend Meeting of B-P in Los Angeles

Almost too early to get a definite line on the number who intend to make the trip, the local Baracas and Philatheas are expecting some forty young men and women from Waco and the immediate vicinity to attend the national Baraca-Philathea convention to be held at Los Angeles, Cal., June 28 to July 3. Especial interest is being taken by the Wacoans in the convention because of the last national convention having been held in this city and owing to the excellent opportunities for sight-seeing in a California trip this year.

James R. Jenkins of Waco, vice president of the national organization, and A. M. House, state president, compose the committee who are working on the delegation from this section of Texas. Since the formation of their city organization the classmen of the city have been very enthusiastic in working up creditable representations to the national gatherings. In 1913 45 members went from here to the Nashville convention and succeeded in bringing the next gathering to this city the next year. It is the plan to make Waco the starting point for a large delegation from Central Texas to attend the Los Angeles convention and then their west with the Panama exposition as the chief place of interest.

No Necessity for Calling Out Guard

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 20.—There is no necessity for ordering out the Missouri national guard to quell the race disturbances about New Madrid, Mo., according to a telephone message from New Madrid sent tonight to Governor Elliott W. Major by Adjutant General John B. O'Meara.

At the request of the sheriff of New Madrid county, General O'Meara had been sent to the scene of the trouble to investigate the activities of so-called night riders who are endeavoring to drive negro farm laborers out of the district.

General O'Meara reported to the governor that a number of special deputies had been sworn in and that in his judgment, these and the sheriff's staff can restore order.

Mr. and Mrs. Migel Return From East

Mr. and Mrs. L. Migel have just returned from an extended trip to the eastern metropolis, where Mr. Migel went in the interest of the Goldstein-Migel company to get a line on the newest thing in novelties and make early advance orders for the fall line.

In addition to the business side of his trip, Mr. Migel was interested in the ideas of the Eastern business men and their opinions on the financial outlook of the country. He reported that he came back to Waco with more optimism and a more eager desire to hit business as enthusiastically and in as generous proportions as though the European war was only a dream. Mr. Migel stated that he proved his faith by buying large stocks of goods.

"Money is much easier now and the rate is much lower than it has been for some time," said the returning merchant. "And after all the bustle and thrill of old New York with her pleasure-loving and hopeful throngs have come back to Waco ready to go stronger into the booming business for Waco and the upbuilding of the public service of my community."

Conspiracy Probe Postponed.

Copius Christi, Tex., Feb. 20.—The preliminary inquiry into the alleged conspiracy to form a republic of Mexicans and negroes in south Texas, by an uprising next Monday, was postponed until next Saturday by United States Commissioner Southgate because of absence of witnesses. It was charged that circulars printed in Spanish were distributed through south Texas to incite the murder of all white Americans, males over 16 years old. The postponed hearing was on charges against Anotolio Gonzales and Manuel Flores of seditious conspiracy.

Notwithstanding the apparent absurdity of the movement, federal and state officials in south Texas are prepared for emergencies next Monday.

Charged With Murder.

Brady, Feb. 20.—A young man who gave the name of Davis, was arrested here yesterday and held on a charge of murder, alleged to have been committed in Mason county Thursday night. Davis was traveling with an old man named Chamberlain, who was killed, his body wrapped in a wagon sheet and thrown from a wagon by the road, where it was found. KAHN FOUNDATION NAMES NO FELLOWS

New York, Feb. 20.—The trustees of the Kahn foundation for the foreign travel of American teachers announced today that because of the difficulties of foreign travel and the consequent impossibility of attaining the ends of the foundation, no fellows will be appointed for the year 1915-16.

The experience of the present appointees, who have been unable to carry out their itineraries, led to this decision.

The fellows for the year 1914-15 are Prof. Thomas Lindsay Blayney of William Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, and Prof. Benjamin Siedel of Wake Forest College, Wake Forest, N. C.

Prof. and Mrs. Blayney were in Germany at the beginning of the war. The professor started for Egypt, India and Japan and was in India when last heard from on December 23.

UGH! CALOMEL IS HORRIBLE! IT SHOCKS YOUR LIVER, IF BILIOUS

Calomel sickens! Don't lose a day's work! Clean your Liver and Bowels with "Dodson's Liver Tone."

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work. Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your liver, causes it to break up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, it breathes bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone. Here's my guarantee—4c to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is a real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salfate or make you sick. Guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

The Doctor's Advice

By Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice free may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Elwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Wort, 1 oz.; syrup sarsaparilla comp. 5 oz.; wine of colchicum, one-half oz.; sodium salicylate, 4 drams; iodide of potassium, 2 drams.

Miss Bertie L. asks: "What remedy can you recommend to reduce obesity safely? I want to reduce about thirty pounds."

Answer: I rely on five-grain arbolone tablets as being the most effective and convenient treatment to reduce abnormal weight. Purchase this in sealed tubes with complete directions. After the first few days a pound a day is not too much reduction.

Mrs. M. D. D. asks: "Do you think it is possible for me to increase my weight from 87 pounds to about 125 pounds?" Answer: Yes, I believe that the regular use of a special tonic tablets will do this for you as it has for thousands of others. Ask your druggist for three-grain hypo-nuclease tablets in sealed package with full directions. Take them for several months to get the full benefit.

"Ray" writes: "Can a sufferer from bronchial trouble be relieved? Doctors do not seem to help me, what would you suggest?"

Answer: To relieve chronic cold, sore throat, bronchitis, I would advise the use of concentrated essence mentho-laxene. Purchase this at any drug store in 2 1/2 oz. packages and mix according to directions given on bottle and you will very shortly be relieved of all bronchial trouble. This will not only relieve, but will correct, and is very pleasant to take.

M. G. W. asks: "What can one do for a bad catarrhal condition? I have suffered a long time and am unable to find relief. In addition to catarrh in throat and nostrils, I am also affected with Pelvic Catarrh (or leucorrhoea)."

Answer: A good tonic and builder such as three-grain hypo-nuclease tablets should build up your vitality, while using antiseptic Wilane Powder for local treatment. Get either a two or eight ounce package of the powder and complete directions with package will tell you how to use.

John C. L. writes: "I find my natural strength and nervous system failing me. I do not recuperate as of yore. My food and rest seem not to benefit as they should. Am weak, despondent and unable to perform the duties which were assumed earlier in life, while my ambition for work and pleasure is slowly going."

Answer: I think a powerful, harmless tonic and nerve medicine will rejuvenate and restore the functions of digestion, assimilation and elimination by purifying the nervous system. Obtain three-grain cadomene tablets packed in sealed tubes, and take as per directions accompanying.

Any who are interested are invited to attend. An idea of the variety of subjects on which the collegian may try his hand for the winning of prizes is suggested in the Baylor Lariat of last week, which invites Baylor students to write essays on "Reasons Why Cremation Is Superior to Burial from an Aesthetic Point of View." A gold, silver and bronze medal is offered for the three best essays by the Cremation Association of America.

DR. BROOKS' LECTURE ON THE CHAMPION OF JUSTICE

"THE LAWYER AND HIS VALUE TO THE COMMUNITY," SUBJECT OF ADDRESS.

THE CHAMPION OF JUSTICE

Speaker Pays High Tribute to the Professional of Honor and Ability.

An address by Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor university, on "The Lawyer and His Value to the Community" was the feature of the luncheon of the newly organized Lawyers Lunch Club of Waco which was held in the grill room of the Riggins, beginning at 12:15 yesterday. Dr. Brooks took occasion to pay a high tribute to the office which the lawyer of honor and ability holds as a champion of justice in the community, whose life he touches in a multitude of ways. W. W. Naman, president of the club, was in charge of the hour and expressed his gratification at the attendance. Thirty-five members of the Waco bar were present.

It will be the policy of the club to have only one speaker for the luncheon, alternating between a layman and members of the bar. The matter of meeting weekly was discussed but the decision was left to the executive committee.

"Perhaps more than any other man," Dr. Brooks said in his brief address, "the lawyer is the most influential person whose sides of interests tend more nearly to approach the circumference of the complete community circle." He illustrated by pointing out that the barber's eye was fixed more or less on the man who needed a shave, the bootblack sees the unshined shoe, the preacher's vision dots churches all over the land and the teachers put the schools all over the map of his dreams. But the progressive lawyer of honor and ability touches society in all of its manifold relations, declared the speaker.

There is a glamour about the profession of the lawyer as a protector of the law and harbinger of human rights that you cannot shake off," insisted the college president. The speaker left the clear influence that he did not subscribe in any measure to the criticisms of a certain type of writers of the present day that attempt to minimize the profession of the law. For service and usefulness to the community which they touch, the lawyer of honor and ability "stands unique" among his fellow citizens, said Dr. Brooks in conclusion.

Allan L. Sams, named by President Naman as the speaker for the next luncheon. J. R. Webb, J. W. Cooke, Judge Erwin J. Clark, G. H. Penland and W. W. Naman, who are members of the executive committee, will probably make a report on the constitution and by-laws at the next meeting.

The following members of the Waco bar were present: John Maxwell, George Cole, Jake Toney, Joe Wren, W. M. Sleeper, Erwin J. Clark, J. R. Webb, Oscar Weatherly, E. B. Baker, P. A. Weathered, G. B. Rogers, Harris Measler, Frank West, Jewell H. Brey, H. H. Park, Harvey Richey, Walter Cooke, J. B. Atkinson, Alva Bryan, J. W. Gallagher, Dawson Wood, Frank Fitzpatrick, Allan A. Sanford, Stratton, Albert Boggs, J. D. Willis, J. P. Alexander, George W. F. M. Maxwell, John McNamara, Gaylord N. Bebout, W. W. Naman, G. H. Penland, T. L. McCulloch.

MR. COCKROFT IS GRATEFUL

Successful Candidate for City Commissioner Has Word of Appreciation for His Friends.

Waco, Tex., Feb. 20, 1915. To My Friends and Fellow Citizens: I know of but one way to adequately express my appreciation for the signal honor you have just conferred on me, and while I thank you very much, there remains yet to be expressed the kind of appreciation the people most desire from public officials—consistent and full performance of their public duty, and it is in the accomplishment of this that I shall endeavor to prove my gratefulness for your vote of honor and confidence.

To a number of ladies I desire also to express my gratitude for it, to them, in no small measure due, that I received so large a majority over my honorable opponent, and I shall be unperturbed if they do not consider themselves just as much my constituents as though they had the right to vote—which they will have some day; this means that I shall be glad to confer with them at any time in the interest of our city.

Again thanking you cordially, I beg to remain, Your obedient servant, W. H. COCKROFT. (Advertisement.)

Suspension Bridge to Be Reopened to Traffic This Week

The old suspension bridge that has gone through a process of rehabilitation since last July until it is now virtually a new structure will be thrown open to traffic probably the latter part of this week, after having been condemned for several years. The bridge connecting the east side with the west portion of the city was originally one of the structural feats of the times when it was spanned across the Brazos river nearly twenty years ago. Rebuilding the bridge has cost in the neighborhood of $57,000. Only the approaches lack completion and these await a shipment of creosoted flooring that is due to arrive the first of this week.

Practically the entire structure is of new material throughout with the exception of the brick towers and anchorages, which have been utilized from the old bridge. With the heavier cables and steel work spanning the new bridge it is a much stronger one than the former. With the modern large capacity of the Washington street bridge, the new bridge when open will provide for an ample traffic across the river that will be of generous accommodations probably for many years to come.

PURIM, FEAST OF LOTS, FALLS ON FEBRUARY 28

FESTIVAL DAY, ACCORDING TO TRADITION, IS RECORDED IN ESTHER.

THE PLANS OF HAMAN

Casting of Chances Came to Naught and Are Turned Against Him.

Purim, the feast of lots, is a Jewish festival held on the 14th and 15th of the intermediate month of Adar. The date this year is the 28th of February, according to the modern calendar. According to Jewish tradition, as recorded in the Book of Esther, the feast is held in celebration of the deliverance of the Jews from the massacre plotted against them by their enemy, Haman, in the time of Artaxerxes. The word itself is a Hebrew loan-word, which means to cast lots. It is recorded that Haman determined upon the day upon which the Jews were to be massacred by casting lots to be cast. Haman's plans were brought to naught and turned against him through the efforts of Mordecai the priest and Queen Esther. The festival was formerly preceded by a fast on the 13th day of Adar, known as the fast of Esther, and based on Esther iv. 16.

Purim is a time of general festivity—the carnival of the Jewish year. Friends exchange gifts, and the occasion is taken to relieve the necessities of the poor if the most considerate manner, in the guise of gifts of friendship. In modern Israel the day is an occasion of rejoicing among the children. Special efforts are made for their pleasure, the religious schools give a special entertainment for them, and gifts are exchanged.

The synagogue observance of the day is limited to the reading of the scroll of the Book of Esther, in which the traditions of Purim are recorded. This is accompanied by the tramping of feet whenever the name of Haman is read from the scroll.

The religious school of Temple Rodef Shalom has made elaborate preparation for the entertainment of children and grown-ups at the Progress Club rooms.

It has been sent out by the American Jewish Relief Committee for increased giving on Purim day for the sufferers of the race in the European war zones.

QUALIFICATIONS OF DAN MORRIS, JR.

Is Thoroughly Competent to Handle City Assessor and Collector's Office of Waco.

Fellow Citizens and Friends: I write this open letter earnestly requesting that you support Mr. Morris in his office of Tax Assessor and Collector of the city of Waco. My opponent has held the position for two terms. I want to be elected so as to better my own condition and I also hope to be of more assistance in building up the city of Waco in the future than I have in the past, although in the past I have done everything within my power for the upbuilding of our good city.

Some of you may not know how well qualified I am to hold the position, but I think that I am thoroughly qualified to handle the office in a proper way. I began with my present employment over twenty years ago, when I was a small boy. I have held every position with them from office boy to assistant cashier and believe that I have given good service. I think that the experience that I have had thoroughly qualifies me to hold the position to which I aspire and I most earnestly ask you to elect me, promising if elected to administer the office with absolute impartiality to the rich and poor alike.

Thanking you in advance for any favors that may be extended to me, I am, Sincerely your friend, DAN MORRIS, JR. (Advertisement.)

Girls' School Board to Meet Here Soon

A meeting of the board of control and special finance committee of the Texas State Training School for girls will be held at Waco on Monday, March 1, for the purpose of hearing the offers of several towns in the central part of the state, that desire to have a bonus for the location of the school. It is quite probable that a location will be selected at this meeting and the town interested in this are asked to have their representatives present or make their proposal by letter to the chairman of the board of control, Patrick Henry, Fort Worth, Texas.

This institution is to be for the training of the unfortunate young girls of Texas who have never been given an opportunity in this state. An appropriation of $25,000 was made by the Thirty-third legislature for the purpose of erecting buildings for this school, but was conditioned upon the raising of a like sum from the counties, cities and individuals of the state. This special fund is nearing completion and it is the hope of those interested that the entire amount will be available by March 1, and that actual operations may be started soon after the location is selected.

The board of control of this institution is composed of the following: Mrs. W. V. Galbreath of Fort Worth, Mrs. Edward Rotan of Waco, Miss Carabel Weimer of Denton, W. F. Doughty of Austin and Patrick Henry, chairman, of Fort Worth.

The following are the members of the special finance committee: Mrs. M. K. Hicks of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Henry B. Fall of Houston, Mrs. F. W. McAlister of San Antonio, Otto Stolley of Austin and Judge Q. D. Corley, chairman, Dallas.

The meeting in Waco will be held at the public library. Mrs. Edward Rotan, who is a member of the board, is planning to entertain the visitors with a luncheon, details of which will be given out later.

In order to expedite the matter of raising funds, all cities in the state of more than 2500 population have been requested to donate one-half cent per capita. This matter probably will be taken up by the city commission of Waco tomorrow morning.

Among the cities that are known to be applicants for the new school are Marlin, Corsicana and Cleburne.

BRITISH AND FRENCH FLEETS COMMENCE BOMBARDMENT OF FORTS OF THE DARDANELLES

ment on the forts at Cape Helles and at Kum-Kalesi, at the entrance to the straits.

When these forts had been damaged the battleship force closed in and engaged the forts with their six, seven and nine-inch guns which, it is believed, must have poured an enormous rain of shells on the Turkish positions.

Besides desiring to bring Turkey to her knees, the allies in their attempt to force the Dardanelles, aim at an early release of the large stock of wheat which is locked up in Russian warehouses and which the allies wish to get out, both to relieve the markets and to provide Russia with necessary credit to pay for war material bought abroad.

Submarines Built in U. S.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Renewed complaints were made today at the state department in behalf of the German and the Austro-Hungarian embassies that submarines are being built in the United States and shipped in sections to Canada for reshipment to England. Secretary Bryan promised an official investigation.

Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel company and owner of the Union Iron works, is said to have cancelled similar contracts with the British government several months ago after a conference with Secretary Bryan, on the theory that they constituted a violation of the neutrality laws.

Naval officers detailed at various private yards where contracts of the United States government are being executed recently reported to Secretary Daniels that the Union Iron works of San Francisco and the Fore River Shipbuilding company of Quincy, Mass., were building ten submarines each, in addition to those they have under construction for the United States. It was said these had been contracted for by Great Britain before the outbreak of hostilities and could not be delivered until the war was over.

The inspectors reported that none of these boats could be completed for several months and that none of their component parts have been shipped by the builders.

So far as the officials here know, no breach of the agreement between Mr. Schwab and the government is contemplated, but it was made evident, notwithstanding the legal opinion secured by the steel company affirming its right to ship parts of war vessels to belligerents, the government will not permit this to be done without appealing to the supreme court if the courts are invoked by the shipbuilders.

SUMMARY OF WAR NEWS.

Three important announcements furnish the outstanding features in the latest reports concerning the European war. The British and French Mediterranean fleets are carrying on a vigorous bombardment of the Dardanelles forts, the first serious attack made at this point by the allied warships. The German forces have been defeated at the fortress of Oswowetz, north-east Lomza, Russian Poland, according to advice from a member of the Russian general staff. A German submarine has made its way into the Irish sea and torpedoed a British coasting steamer near the route taken by Trans-Atlantic steamers to and from Liverpool.

The attack on the Dardanelles has begun Friday and continued throughout Saturday. British official reports and unofficial statements declare that the allied fleets have met with success in what naval experts said must have been one of the most serious bombardments ever undertaken.

Eight battleships and cruisers are taking part in the attack and the forts on both sides of the strait are reported to have been silenced without damage to the warships.

The Turks, however, say that no damage was done to the forts and that their casualties numbered one killed and one wounded, with considerable damage to three of the warships by the guns of the fort.

In Oswowetz, it is reported the German invaders suffered heavy losses after a stubborn artillery battle, and are retreating to the East Prussian frontier.

The British steamer which met disaster in the British sea was the Cambrank, which was torpedoed east of Linn Point by a German submarine without warning. Three members of the crew were killed and a fourth was drowned, the remainder being saved.

In the western theatre of war there has been cannonading in Belgium and which the enemy had strongly organized.

"In the Argonne there have been a few engagements, of little importance. At Les Eparges, southeast of Verdun, after having repulsed the sixth counter attack by the enemy, we delivered a fresh attack, enlarging and completing the magnificent victory realized yesterday. We took three machine guns, two trench mortars and 200 prisoners, including several officers."

"In the positions which we carried at Xon we found the bodies of soldiers belonging to five different regiments."

Aid for Poland.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Foreign office dispatches to the Austro-Hungarian embassies here today announce the incorporation of organized aid for the civilian population of Poland with the co-operation of the Rockefeller Foundation and under the patronage of the American and Spanish ambassadors. The dispatch also reports the retreat of the reinforced Russian troops towards Stanislaw.

It says: "In spite of heavy reinforcements the Russians were unable to resist attack to the north of Nadworna and they retreated towards Stanislaw. On the other front in Galicia and Russian Poland there has been unintermitted and perilous fighting. Several Russian attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses to the Czar's troops. The situation in general remains unchanged."

"Under the presidency of Prince Lichsteinstein an auxiliary committee has been established for the suffering civilian population occupied by the Austro-Hungarian troops. The action will be carried into effect in union with the American central commission connected with the Rockefeller foundation and under the patronage of the American and Spanish ambassadors to Vienna and Berlin and the archbishops of Posen and Cracow."

Today Baron Buriar met with Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg in the Austrian headquarters.

Austria Orders Sowing.

Vienna, via London, Feb. 20.—The appeal issued to farmers Thursday by the Austrian minister of agriculture in which he urged them not to leave a single plot of ground anywhere uncultivated was followed today by a peremptory decree by the Austrian government ordering land owners to sow along the whole frontier as far and including Rheims. In the Champagne district the allies have repulsed several counter attacks and made fresh progress north of Perthes. At Les Eparges, southeast of Verdun, the allies on Saturday delivered a fresh attack after having repulsed six counter attacks by the German forces.

According to the French war office, resulted in enlarging and completing the progress realized Friday. The Austrians announce that in southeastern Galicia the Russians have been unable to maintain their positions to the north of Nadworna and have retired in the direction of Stanislaw.

An Austrian aeroplane flew over Cetinje, capital of Montenegro, on February 18, dropping nine bombs, which killed two women and wounded four children, according to a semi-official announcement made in Paris. The Austrian government has issued a peremptory decree ordering land owners to sow immediately every available plot of their ground with spring wheat. Failure to comply with the edict is punishable by heavy fines or imprisonment.

The Russian minister to Roumania stated in a report to the Russian foreign minister that according to such information as he had been able to secure, Roumania would take side neither for nor against Russia and her allies, but would continue her present policy of armed and watchful neutrality.

Handling Shells for Russian Field Gun in Action

Close contact with danger renders one callous to consequences, and the photograph shows Russian artillerymen unloading shells from the caisson for use in a light field gun. The Russian caissons are made to let down and serving the effects of his fire.

Immediately every available part of their ground with spring wheat.

Where necessary, local authorities are empowered by the decree to provide labor for this work and to recover from the sale of crops the expenditure incurred. Failure to comply with the edict is punishable by heavy fines or imprisonment.

The minister of agriculture was quoted as saying in his appeal Thursday:

"Peace depends more than ever upon the work in the fields this spring. The power of the army and the security of the state are conditional upon the productivity of agriculture."

The question of food supplies in Austria-Hungary is daily becoming more acute, according to recent news dispatches, and the government has confiscated all stores of grain. The shortage of fodder for cattle is greatly increasing the gravity of the situation.

Rifle Fire Severe.

Vienna, via London, Feb. 20.—The following official bulletin was issued here today:

"In Russian Poland yesterday the artillery and rifle fire was severe. Vigorous fighting developed around the Russian advanced positions, captured by us in the region south of Tarnow, and on the Dunajec river. The enemy's counter attacks were repelled with losses."

"On the Carpathian front the general situation in the neighborhood of Wyszok remains unchanged. Fighting is in progress almost everywhere. In southeastern Galicia the enemy has been unable to maintain its strong positions to the north of Nadworna. Yielding before our attacks the Russians retired in the direction of Stanislaw pursued by our cavalry."

Concessions to Italy.

London, Feb. 20.—The Frankfurter Zeitung, in a leading article today, suggests that Austria should make territorial concessions to Italy to insure the latter's neutrality according to the Amsterdam correspondent of Reuters Telegram company. The paper is quoted as saying:

"It is not conceivable that the question of frontier should in any way be prejudicial to the position of Austria-Hungary as a great power, seeing that she has recently so brilliantly displayed her strength against mishty Russia."

The article suggests the holding of a conference by Germany, Austria and Italy to discuss their grievances.

German Vessel Interned.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 20.—The stipulated period during which the German steamer Holker, which arrived here Thursday, might remain in this port, having expired, the Argentine authorities have declared the vessel interned.

Newspapers here publish a report that the German auxiliary cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm is actually in the waters of the river Plate, having on board sailors from vessels which she has sunk.

Pieces of Torpedo.

London, Feb. 20.—In connection with the damaging of the Norwegian tank steamer Belridge by an external explosion off Folkestone yesterday, the admiralty announced tonight that seven pieces of metal found aboard the Belridge after she was beached at Walmer have been examined at the admiralty offices and proved, beyond a doubt, to be pieces of a discharged torpedo.

German Forces Beaten.

Petrograd, Feb. 20.—Via London.—The German forces have been badly beaten at the fortress of Oswowetz, twenty miles northwest of Lomza, in Russian Poland, after a stubborn artillery battle according to a telegram from the Russian general staff to a high personage here. The Germans are reported to have suffered heavy losses and now are retreating to the East Prussian frontier.

Bread Ticket Regime.

Berlin, Feb. 20, via London, Feb. 21, 2:15 a. m.—Berlin residents today were busy making preparations to take up their culinary duties under the bread ticket regime which begins tomorrow.

So-called bread commissions were issuing tickets which must reach households tomorrow or they will have to go without bread.

The Holger, when she arrived here had on board the crews of several merchant ships sunk during January and February by the cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm.

Employment Situation Discussed.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The employment situation was discussed with Secretaries Houston and Wilson of the agriculture and labor departments at a joint meeting today by a delegation headed by Mrs. Haviland H. Lord of New York, which presented a plan to be given further consideration next week.

The proposal is the creation of a bureau of land information for the purpose of getting city-bred men on farms.

How It Happened.

"I once knew a man who led a blameless life," volunteered Alexander Akin, the dyspeptic dissertationist. "He was entirely without relatives and never married, consequently he had no one to blame him."—Fun.

Police Station Business and Its Variety of Calls

In the ordinary run of a Saturday night's business at the police station, when the variety of calls are below normal with only an occasional false burglary alarm to break the monotony of the string of drunks, does it seem a fair proposition for a group of five eager young men to break in on the even time of the turnkey's duties to demand of that supposedly omniscient personage, the turnkey, to determine whether a squirming black lizard of an animal is a Gila monster, an alligator, a reptile or an unnamable demon? Regardless of the justice of the thing, five young fellows came with subdued eagerness into the city hall last night, carrying a large covered hatbox.

They marched straightway to the iron-netted police clerk's desk, shoved the lid off cautiously, and blurted out unceremoniously to Turnkey Ullman, "Well, Mister, what is it?"

Having the conservative nature that comes to one after many years of dealing with all the ills and woes of the human race that pass in an almost unending stream before the turnkey that connects the needs of the public with the protection of the police, Mr. Ullman refused to commit himself at once. Several policemen and visitors lounging nearby ventured opinions.

"Looks like a baby gator, sure's you're living."

"No, guess you're wrong; it's one of those big, burly lizards off the prairie."

"Why, look how the thing wriggles and flips his tail. That's one of those poisonous reptiles that turns your blood into dirty water. Get the bloming thing away before somebody gets hurt."

But all were not so superstitious about the demoniacal qualities of the crocodilian-shaped animal.

"Ah, what you suppose we are living in, the Garden of Eden? That's one of the biggest horned tree lizards that ever beat his way into Waco on a load of cord wood. He probably liked the looks of the city and dropped off on Austin street to see the white way."

Another bystander, not liking the bragadocio spirit of the self-named burlesque naturalist, facetiously added, with a grin, "And I supposed he couldn't stand the pressure of the city and was run into headquarters as many another poor rube is on his first visit."

And thus went the battle of opinions, for human nature doesn't seem to like to be slapped face to face with a puzzle that it can't unravel. But with all the conversational shrapnel, up until midnight the unclassified lizard—or Lizzie she is threatened to be called if she is added to the conglomerate zoo that has grown up by default on the city hall grounds—still remained severely let alone in her hatbox, well wrapped with twine.

Probably "Lizzie" herself isn't aware of her particular twist on the animal branch, but Webster's unabridged shows possibilities for quite a decent genealogy. From a casual glance, her appearance might put her in the group of the American mississippiensis, or ordinary alligator, unless you prefer, or if more ambitious and a believer in evolution, she would easily get in the lacertus class with its broad genera. An enterprising show man, however, would immediately connect the disgruntled reptile as the original "Emerald-eyed Gila monster" that had escaped captivity.

Lost in a perfect maze of classification possibilities as she is, the lizard-like creature's manner of arriving at the police station is more easy to pigeon-hole. It, she—or, at least, the thing—was found on Franklin street, near third, about 10:30 last night, under a goods box placed temporarily on the sidewalk.

Like the average mortal used to city life, the five captors followed the unwritten admonition—when in doubt, to the police; they don't know everything, but they do know where to put the kibosh on the average human question mark.

No Man Can Serve 2 Masters, Says Judge

Chicago, Feb. 20.—"No man can serve two masters," declared Judge Clarence N. Goodwin of the superior court today, addressing fifty-five foreigners seeking their final naturalization papers.

"You are to have no other allegiance than that to the United States, and no mental reservation when you take the oath of loyalty. The United States wants no citizens with divided allegiance. Unless you have come with a heart and mind single in devotion to the United States, you have not come in good faith."

Most of the candidates for citizenship were natives of Germany, Russia and Austria-Hungary.

Independence Union Is Organized in N. Y.

New York, Feb. 20.—Organization of the American Independence Union, which held its first meeting in Washington on January 30, was perfected at a meeting of the committee on organization here today.

Representative Richard Bartholdt of Missouri was elected president and Herman Ridder of New York honorary president.

A resolution adopted at the meeting today declared that the membership of the union "will be confined exclusively to American citizens, irrespective of their descent, but of unquestioned loyalty to the government of the United States, a loyalty which would remain absolutely unshaken and undiminished in times of war and emergency on the face of the globe."

The resolution declared, however, that such loyalty neither deprives a citizen of his right to scrutinize the action of high public officials nor absolves him of his duty to do so.

The jitne men have asked a referendum election and seek to enjoin enforcement of the ordinance until the referendum vote is taken.

Race Hatred Gives Way to Brotherhood and Democracy Gains

New York, Feb. 20.—Race hatred is giving way to the spirit of brotherhood and democracy is gaining over aristocracy, in the opinion of Prof. William M. Sloane of Columbia university and of Dr. Toyokichi Iyenaga, formerly of the University of Chicago, who were the principal speakers today in a discussion on this topic by college professors at the Republican club.

The advancement of the spirit of tolerance in New York City has been almost incredible, said Prof. Sloane.

Inequality among races, Dr. Iyenaga said, is indisputable, but injustice comes when the color of the skin is made the criterion of equality. The best cure for race prejudice, he thinks, is knowledge and education.

"We Japanese beg for no Grace, but will stand on our own merit," he added. "I find the Americans the most fair-minded and just people on the face of the globe."

William Pickens of Wiley university, Texas, also spoke.

renewed activity all along the line, and attacks and counter attacks have become much more serious. Both the British and French seemingly made considerable progress at the outset of the offensive operations, and this made it imperative for the Germans to deliver counter attacks to regain the ground which they had lost. In carrying these out the Germans have shown the same desperate spirit which has characterized their previous operations under similar circumstances.

In a long report covering the week's operations to Feb. 17, a French "eye-witness" claims for the French many minor successes and the repulse of German counter-attacks.

The Germans, too, make similar claims; so that the public is left to judge as to the outcome of the week's flare-up.

From the eastern front there is no news except tonight's unofficial dispatch from Petrograd, which says that the Germans have suffered defeat at Osowetz and have been compelled to fall back toward the frontier. Should this prove to be correct, the German plans would be entirely upset, as defeat at this point would endanger the whole of their line northward along the East Prussian frontier.

In the rest of Poland and in the Carpathians, where severe fighting still is in progress, there has been no change in the relative positions of the opposing armies, while in Bukovina a battle is being fought along the Pruth river. Retirement to this position should be an advantage to the Russians, as it considerably shortens their line and enables reinforcements to reach them more easily.

The Serbians and Austrians are again facing each other across the Danube and have, in turn, been bombarding Semlin and Belgrade, respectively, and the positions near those cities. This may mean the commencement of a new campaign, or perhaps it is an attempt by the Serbians to help relieve the pressure on the Russians.

Cettinje has been again visited by an Austrian aeroplane, which dropped bombs and, according to the Montenegrin report, killed two women.

No Warning Given.
Liverpool, via London, Feb. 20.—Without warning, a German submarine torpedoed the British steamer Cambank, a few miles east of Linnas Point, in the Irish sea, about 11 o'clock this morning.

The explosion killed the third engineer and two firemen. Another member of the crew was drowned in an attempt to jump into a boat. The rest of the crew and the pilot, twenty in all, were saved.

One of the men, in describing the experience of the Cambank, said: "We were bound from Huelva, Spain, for Liverpool with a cargo of copper. When outside of Amlywich, on the north coast of Wales, we took aboard a pilot. We had gathered speed when a periscope was observed about 200 yards away. The engines were reversed, but while the vessel was turning, the submarine discharged a torpedo, which struck us amidships. We launched the lifeboats and managed to pull clear before the Cambank sank. We had no time to save anything and most of us were scantily clad and much exhausted when a boat took us in charge and towed us into Amlywich harbor."

A steamer which arrived here reports that she had been warned by the Cambank that there was a submarine in the vicinity. She was put on full steam and, being a speedy vessel, reached port safely.

Rockefeller Plans the Study of Police

New York, Feb. 20.—A study of police problems in European cities under the auspices of the bureau of social hygiene, of which John D. Rockefeller Jr. is chairman, was issued here today in book form under the title "European police systems."

It is the third series issued by the bureau, the two former having dealt with prostitution in New York City and in Europe. The fourth volume, now in progress of preparation, will treat of police systems in America.

The bureau of social hygiene, in announcing the publication of the present work, said that while the bureau is concerned with the problem of commercial vice, it was felt that intelligent suggestions concerning this problem could not be made without a thorough understanding of the European and American police systems.

In collecting the data upon which the book is based, Raymond B. Fiedler, former commissioner of accounts of the City of New York, visited twenty-one European cities and devoted nearly two years to personal inquiry into the subject.

Congress Works Fast.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The mills of both houses of congress ground fast and long today on the grist of appropriation bills which must become law before March 4.

The senate after adding $1,000,000 to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill as it left the house, passed that measure also the $126,000,000 sundry civil bill, with minor amendments and took up the army appropriation bill.

Fourteen other supply bills are yet to be acted upon.

In the house the diplomatic appropriation bill was passed over it has been cut half, $500,000. Appropriations of $360,000 for a consulate building at Shanghai and $50,000 for entertainment of Central and South American financiers at Panama were cut out, despite the state department's endorsement.

A proposal to have the president take steps to recover from Cuba more than $6,000,000 spent in the pacification, also was eliminated.

The appropriation for participation in an expedition to Panama was cut from $100,000 to $25,000.

The house also passed the military academy bill appropriating $1,037,983 and took up the $5,000,000 for diversification measure.

During the debate on the academy bill, Representative Platt urged his bill to authorize the president to fill all vacancies from the whole list of alternates. Vacancies in the last ten years have averaged from 42 to 129 a year, he said, and an emergency would demonstrate the need of these additional officers for the army.

Hearing Night Rider Cases.
Hickman, Ky., Feb. 20.—Preliminary hearings of eighteen white men, charged with being members of a night riding band which has terrorized negroes in this vicinity, began here today with the prospect that several days would be consumed before the hearings are completed.

Between Hickman and Tiptonville a number of negroes have been driven from their farms through fear, after notices had been posted warning them to leave the country and a number of cabins were riddled with bullets. One negro was wounded.

At Linden, Mo., on the Mississippi, opposite Tiptonville, and at Dorena, Mo., opposite Hickman, night riders are also said to have terrorized negroes.

On the Kentucky side of the river the warfare appears to have been inspired largely by racial hatred.

Italian Council Peaceful.

Rome, via Paris, Feb. 20.—The proceedings in the Italian chamber of deputies today were comparatively peaceful, owing probably to the general belief among the deputies that the government has decided to prepare for eventualities. The first line soldiers now under the colors total about 1,000,000 and thus mobilization virtually has been accomplished. Should Italy be necessary Italy can speedily call to arms the territorial troops for the local garrison.

Why Bread Is 6 Cents

One reason why the price of a loaf of bread is advanced to six cents—it may go to seven—is shown in the photograph. This is one corner of a wharf where thousands of sacks of flour are awaiting shipment to Europe. No one grudges the flour to the starving Belgians, nor to the Germans, French and English, all of whom need it badly. But one can help thinking that if they laid aside their warring and battling and attended to business, they could raise their own flour and save millions of Americans—"innocent bystanders"—from feeling the terrible cost of the conflict so directly.

One Divorce Suit to Every Six Marriages

Chicago, Feb. 20.—One suit seeking freedom from marital bonds was filed in the Chicago courts in 1914 for every six marriage licenses issued in the county, according to figures disclosed today. In the year, 33,897 licenses to wed were issued and in the same period the courts received 5,556 petitions for divorce, annulment of marriage or separate maintenance.

Claim They Witnessed Killing.

Pueblo, Colo., Feb. 20.—Three men who claim to have witnessed the killing of three mine guards and a chauffeur of an automobile party of Oakdale Coal company employees near La Veta, November 8, 1913, testified today at the trial of seven former coal workers for the killing of the chauffeur, Luke Terry.

The witnesses, Charles O. Bitters and Walter Nutall, employees of the Denver & Rio Grande Railway company, and Ray Springer, a La Veta business man, testified that, watching from distances of from half to three-quarters of a mile, they saw Harry Bryan, captain of the Oakdale mine guards, leave the automobile as it approached the Loughed reservoir dam and fire the first shot at the strikers on the embankment.

Negro House Blown Up.

Princeton, Ky., Feb. 20.—The home of John Childress, a negro, was blown up here early today. The house was demolished but occupants escaped injury.

Childress, with his family, fled from Princeton last November, after having received written notice to quit the county. The warning was signed by "Possum Hunters" as night riders in Western Kentucky styled themselves. He returned last week.

Hunting Counterfeiters.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—United States secret service operatives were seeking a counterfeit plant here tonight. John Krizky, a Joliet, Ill., for passing counterfeit dollars, according to the secret service officials, that he was the agent for a bogus money mint located in Chicago.

When arrested he had thirty-one counterfeit dollars in his possession, and according to federal officials, he was identified by twenty persons in Joliet as the man who had victimized them with counterfeit money.

Two Killed in Duel.

WACO HIGH SCHOOL SCARES DALLAS BUT FAILS TO WIN GAME

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 20.—By a complete reversal to form, Waco high school basketball team threw a scare into local Hi athletic circles by staging an "anybody's game" in which Dallas barely pulled out a lucky win, 20 to 17. At the end of time the score was 19 to 17, but Waco committed a foul which was shot after the game was over, giving the locals a 3-point win.

Solving the problem which caused their wholesale defeat at the hands of Oak Cliff Friday, which was a cage behind one basket, Waco Hi played both halves against Dallas in as good form as it exhibited in the first half against Oak Cliff. Waco played Oak Cliff off its feet Friday in the first half when Oak Cliff had an open end under its basket. In the second half Oak Cliff drew the cage and worked a trick peculiar to the court, namely, a carom from a long pass. Before Waco's defense was able to cope with this the game was gone, and the team went to pieces. The Waco coaches pulled out the regulars, sending in subs, in order to save the team for today's game.

Waco again drew the closed end in today's game against Dallas Hi, and again beat the locals in the first half, the half ending Waco 19, Dallas 8. With the gallery of hundreds of rooters literally wild, Dallas tied the score and from then on the affair was simply a matter of which side happened to be ahead when the whistle blew.

In playing defense at the "trick" end of the court Waco coaches kept Owen well back, but made him play the ball against Hargrave, Dallas' star forward. The result was that Hargrave was balked, and but for the wonderful ability of his teammates to shoot long baskets, Dallas would have been defeated. Hill also played back deeper than when Dallas had the open end of the court. This caused the long pass of Dallas to be ineffective, and the bunch depended on long shooting. Its passing was completely outlaced by that of Waco. Dallas used the trap pass equally well as Waco. The visitors, however, should attribute their great showing against the strong Dallas team to its use of this new pass. Dallas had more shots than did Waco, in spite of the fact that Waco handled the ball more than the locals. This was the result of great guarding by Smith and A. Utay of Dallas, who were unable to break into Waco's teamwork but prevented shooting. Last year Dallas defeated Waco at Waco by making every shot count, while Waco was unable to hit the basket. This was reversed today.

More or less difficult chances, not daring to carry the ball into the territory occupied by Owen, whose defense was the marvel of the game. They made one more basket in the forty minutes of play, which decided the game.

It was acknowledged here that Waco Hi has the best team that has played Dallas this year, and the unusual defeat is held responsible for Waco's defeat in the hands of both teams.

The fact that Waco lost to Dallas by three points, with a new team, while Dallas has four of its five last year's regulars in the game, is considered remarkable. Especially is this true since it is remembered that Dallas more than doubled the score against Waco last year at Waco. Waco showed the results of the heavy game Friday with Oak Cliff.

Dallas has a team that would be a credit to almost any college. Hargrave is a wonderful man at the baskets, while the Utay brothers, last year stars, played up to their usual form.

For Waco the defense of Owen and the long shooting by Hill, running guard, were the features. Hill's ability to pick the right time to throw the ball into the basket, by tying up the score with a rummy loop shot caused mental anguish to the local rooters. Wiebusch played an aggressive game, especially in the second half, getting into the pass work rather than attempting to score. Megarity was successful in ringing a number of difficult baskets, but the one that would have tied the game just before the whistle blew rolled tantalizingly around the rim and dropped out. Knebel, center, was the pivot for all Waco's plays.

The following is the line-up with the number of field goals made by each player:
Waco—Wiebusch 1 and Megarity 3, forwards; Knebel 1, center; Hill 3 and Owen, guards.

Dallas—Hargrave 4 and H. Utay 3, forwards; Edmondson 1, center; Smith 1 and R. Utay, guards. Free throws—Hill 1, Hargrave 2.

JOHNSON MUST DO HEAVY TRAINING

New York, Feb. 20.—Jack Johnson must do some strenuous training if he wishes to retain his championship title at Juarez next month, in the opinion of the officers of the freight steamship Highland Harris, on which the champion was a passenger from Montevideo, Uruguay, to Barbadoes, where he left the vessel on Feb. 7 and chartered a 300-ton schooner to take him and his party to Mexico. The Highland Harris reached her dock here yesterday.

Aboard the Highland Harris Johnson was accompanied by Frank Hagney of Sydney, boxer and swimmer, who is acting as his trainer for the contest with Willard.

Johnson did no real training while on shipboard, but was careful of his diet. He expected to begin real work for the fight as soon as he landed in Mexico. Johnson explained that he had injured his arm boxing on shipboard while en route from Southampton to Mexico and did not wish to take another risk.

Officers of the Highland Harris said that as Johnson had not trained between the time he left Montevideo, Jan. 26, and his arrival at Tampico, Mex., on Thursday, unusual measures would have to be adopted by the champion if he hoped to get in good condition to meet Jess Willard March 6, the date set for the fight at Juarez.

THEATRES

AUDITORIUM.

Thursday, Feb. 25—Matinee and night, "September Morn."
Friday, Feb. 26—"Peg o' My Heart."
Saturday, Feb. 27—Matinee and night, "A Pair of Sixes."

And now comes the welcome musical comedy—the original fun bag—this time it's a brand-new, up-to-date, minute musical tangle of song and girls called "September Morn." It is one of the best traveling organizations ever sent forth by Rowland & Clifford, and the chorus is said to be the finest collection of buds from the Garden of American Beauties. The play, of course, gets its name from the painting of the same name which stirred up comment from coast to coast. The story of the piece has to do with the aspirations of one Rudolph Plaster, owner of an art studio, who claims to have been the painter. Of course, Rudolph does not even know how to paint a picket fence. The model of "September Morn" is laid claim to by an actress who has instructed her press agent to circulate the rumor that she is the original. The ludicrous moments when the two impersonators are dodging each other and when a chesty old army officer, who has fallen in love with the actress, discovers that she is a good for nothing wife, creates enough laughter and plot for six musical plays. The scenery is prettily designed and painted and the costumes introduce the latest Parisian creations.

The company numbers within its ensemble some fifty people, all in all bringing about a new type of musical play with delicious fooling thoroughly interspersed. The dancing numbers are many, spirited, charming, highly enjoyable and welcome, the various styles of the world-popular tango being introduced in various attractive forms.

Dainty Ollie Carew is seen in the newest dances now in vogue in Paris. Leo Greenwood and Barbara Douglas, the popular musical comedy stars, also have big parts. Arthur Gillespie, who wrote the book and the lyrics, Aubrey Stauffer composed the music and Frank Tannehill Jr. staged the production, which comes almost direct from the LaSalle opera house, Chicago.

At Auditorium matinee and night, Thursday, Feb. 25.

On Friday, February 26, matinee and night, the Auditorium theatre will have a special return engagement of J. Hartley Manners' delightful comedy of youth, "Peg o' My Heart," in which Oliver Morosco is sending here with his newest and youngest leading lady, Marion Dentler, to interpret the name part.

The scenes of the play are laid in a well known summer colony in England, the home of the Chichesters. They are a proud, unnatural family and have accepted the responsibility of educating Peg, an unknown niece, for no other reason than the urgent need of the income that is offered.

Peg, on the other hand, is a jolly, impetuous girl with a fascinating brogue. She has been raised by her whole-hearted father, and when she arrives in the Chichester home with her Irish dog, Michael, she shocks the family, first by her appearance and then by her manners. Her unfamiliar wit and her curious antics cause many humorous situations throughout the play. The daughter, Ethel, is having a love affair with a man named Brent, who is married. He has also been making love to Peg, but she repulses him, making friends only with an old friend of the family, Jerry, as she calls him. Peg is successful in preventing an elopement between Ethel and Brent and is then about to leave the Chichester home when it is learned that Jerry is an English nobleman and is in love with Peg, when Peg, in his arms, tells him that when her father bears the news he will quote the poem and say, "Peg, me darlin', there's nothing half so sweet in life as love's young dream."

The different road companies playing this remarkable success have broken many records throughout the United States and Canada that it would require entirely too much space to list them and judging by the interest elsewhere a capacity house will greet Peg on her arrival in this city. The play was produced by Oliver Morosco, a western producer, who up until three years ago was unknown to the theatrical world of the Hawaiian Islands. "The Bird of Paradise," and "Peg o' My Heart," Morosco's name is now as well known to theatrical producers as that of Klaw & Erlanger, Charles Frohman and other well known producers whom the theatrical world rely on to furnish them with the best plays.

"A Pair of Sixes." Last spring Oscar Figman, now appearing in "A Pair of Sixes," which is playing at the Auditorium next Saturday, had occasion to visit the Boston public library and was shocked by a sign on the wall which read, "Only Low Conversation Permitted Here." Since then he has been making a collection of incongruous signs and here offers a few examples:

Over a food shop in New Haven is a sign bearing this motto: "Phillips & Greene, Lobsters." The front of a basement restaurant in Chicago displays this sign: "Coffee and Roll Downstairs, 5c." Next door another restaurant announces, "Small Steak Extra Small Steak 25c."

While in the vicinity of the Radcliffe college for girls, he noticed this sign: "Our Swimming Tank has a capacity of 29,000 Gals." A North Chicago corset shop announces: "Our corsets will fit your waist and bust."

A Philadelphia optician's window displays a sign reading, "Broken Lenses Duplicated." A kalsomine artist in Cincinnati announces "White-wash Done Here in All Colors." A New York bargain book store, at the time of the Dickens celebration some time ago, hung out a huge sign saying, "Dickens works here all this week for $3.98." Near Mr. Figman's bungalow on Long Island is a hotel displaying this sign: "This hotel is patronized by refined people; also caters to auto parties." In a small country hotel in Pennsylvania Mr. Figman came across this legend: "To blow out electric lights, turn the button." While riding out on the South Side in Chicago, Mr. Figman noticed a restaurant which announced, "A la carte dinner, 50c." And during the run of "A Pair of Sixes" at the Long-acre theatre in New York an enterprising shoe dealer there announced on a card in his display window, "If 'A Pair of Sixes' don't fit you, we have other sizes that will."

Fritz Kreisler Tour.

Last winter Fritz Kreisler played the immortal Beethoven Concerto with the Boston Symphony Orchestra in Boston. Not within the memory of the patrons of those concerts has any violinist made such a profound impression. Philip Hale of the Boston Herald is one of the really great critics of the world and as such is decidedly conservative especially when writing of performances. Yet even upon the audience by Kreisler's playing. In his criticism in the Herald the next morning he said:

"As for the Concerto the first two movements are companionless in the literature of the violin, and Mr. Kreisler by his musical intensity and consummate skill put the finale nearly abreast of that which preceded. They are performances that of the splendor of their beauty vie with the works themselves, so that the players led by a master hand and the chief interpreter whom they assist are all as re-creators. It would be an impertinence to chatter about Mr. Kreisler's technical skill, though this never seemed so imposing as it did yesterday, especially in the cadenza of his own invention. Or of what avail would be the heaping of one superlative upon another in the rearing of a rhetorical monument? Such eulogy would become the dignity, nobility and pure but flaming spirit of the performance. In the routine of concerts there is now and then a great event brought about by the fortunate conjunction of work, conductor and orchestra working together in perfect artistry so that the musical thoughts and expression of a Beethoven assume new and fresh and entrancing shapes."

COZY.

"Lena Rivers."

Refreshed and invigorated by three days of riding and driving the country roads of this vicinity, Besse Dainty's vacation ends tomorrow night when she returns to the cast of her company at the new Cozy theatre. During the run of "The Third Degree," Miss Dainty rested for the first time since she opened her engagement in Waco, nearly five months ago—and those who have been aware of the tremendous amount of work and study she has done do not begrudge her the relaxation. For her re-entry she has selected a play for which there have been so many requests that it seems at last to merit a repetition. The selection will be "Lena Rivers." It may be remembered that this attraction brought bigger returns in dollars and cents than any she has offered here. It was likewise one of her very biggest hits from the viewpoint of the patrons. For two years Miss Dainty played the part of Lena Rivers on the one-night stands, being featured with the show and receiving the most favorable comment in the press from coast to coast. Among the most successful financially that the firm of Bert & Nicoli has had. During her second tour she played in this city at the Auditorium, played in this city at the Cozy theatre, and the plot revolves about the fortunes and misfortunes of a little girl whose mother, deserted, dies and leaves her in the care of her grandfather and grandmother on the small New England farm. One of his sons determines to bring his mother and Lena to live with him in Kentucky. There the small country girl is introduced to a small, high society. But in spite of her unsophisticated ways, her beauty and intelligence win for her the pick of the young men of the community. One of these, Durward Belmont, falls in love with her and this brings down upon her the wrath of her cousin, who desires to win the young gentleman for herself. Then there is a meeting between Lena and the step-father of Belmont. He discovers that Lena is his daughter. He is the man who deserted her mother. He dares not tell her, but his love for her is so evident that it involves Lena in a tangle of entanglements which threatens to wreck her happiness forever. At the end he straightens matters out by admitting that he is her father and Lena and Durward are reunited to live happily ever after.

HIPPODROME.

The Chocolate Soldier.

Another scoop! The Hippodrome has secured that merry military romance for today only—"The Chocolate Soldier." The screen version is in five reels and is brought out under the direction of F. C. Whitney who has the original Broadway all-star cast, including Tom Richards, Alice York and etc., in the photoplay.

The story of "The Chocolate Soldier" is well known to Wacoans and it is just the thing for a good photoplay. The Chocolate Soldier is there when it comes to fighting shy of fighting and is a lady-killer he is a wonder.

At this time when serious things are reminders of many troubles, a piece like "The Chocolate Soldier" with its clever, funny situations and by-play hits the spot with those in search of genuine amusement.

The piece is billed to show "thrilling battle scenes between Bulgarians and Serbians" and the thrillers are scenes between the Chocolate Soldier, a Bulgarian, and his innamorata, a Serbian damsel of royal blood. It would be well for every one in Waco who is looking for a class amusement to see this photoplay at the Hippodrome today.

An item of unusual interest to theatre goers is the fact that the organist of the Hippodrome, Mrs. James Adair, will play the original score of the music of "The Chocolate Soldier" which is being played on the screen at the Hippodrome today. This score was secured from the makers of the picture and is, as everybody well knows, composed of the most attractive musical numbers that have been heard throughout the country. Those who attend the Hippodrome today are therefore assured of a double pleasure, that of seeing this clever screen production and also that of hearing the original score of the musical portion of the big Broadway success.

The Truth Wagon.

Max Figman and his co-star, Lolita Robertson, who crowded the Hippodrome in September in "The Man on the Box," will be seen in a special Alliance Feature film, "The Truth Wagon." This is a brilliant comedy drama from the play by Hayden Talbot and well do these two favorably sustain their reputation in comedy drama in this, their new vehicle. The screen version is presented in five reels and anyone who has ever seen Max Figman in anything will want to see him in his latest success. Max Figman as John Ross and Lolita Robertson as Helen Dean make a team in "The Truth Wagon" that would make a mummy laugh. A short synopsis of the story is:

John Ross, idle son of a too rich father, hears continually the question, "Why don't you tell the truth and go to work?" His rich father is the plant tool of corrupt politicians. Helen Dean is the reporter on her father's fast dying newspaper. They meet. Helen is impressed by the idleness of John Ross and asks him the eternal question that John's father is forever asking, "Why don't you tell the truth and go to work?" Right here the sensation occurs, John Ross buys Helen's newspaper and starts a new thing within two minutes after his purchase. He begins to wage bitter war against crooked politics. Gets his father nominated for governorship and then things happen. Sullivan, the boss, who has long been using John's father as his tool, comes back in lively fashion. He gets a gang of thugs together to wreck the office of "Truth." John, not to be caught napping gets another gang and places it under the leadership of a prize fighter and in the resultant fight John's gang routs the Bosses' thugs. A slanderous story about John and Helen is circulated by the discharged employees of the newspaper and business picks up again. John gets his father to withdraw in favor of Helen's father, who wins the governorship in a walk over, of course, John wins Helen. Max Figman is inimicable in this mixture of comedy and drama

WAR MAKES DRASTIC CHANGES IN FASHION; RUSSIAN TUNIC LINES ALREADY POPULAR

High Military Stocks and Collars Begin to Decline In Favor, Says the Charming Peg In Oliver Morosco's "Peg o' My Heart."

ONE of the uppermost themes of conversation during the most beautiful time of the year is clothes. The atmosphere seems to inspire the subject. The decadent note in the fashions is very obvious, and I find that whenever two or three women are gathered together and the subject of fogs is brought up the opinion seems to be unanimous that the appalling war will stamp out this deplorable note.

War ever since the creation of fashion has had its influence on modes. For some time we drew ideas from the Balkans. The barbaric seemed to touch some inward sense that we never paused to analyze, and we just accepted the swathed hips and baggy corsets as good style. To this were added the typical embroideries and colors emanating from that corner of the globe where, in a measure, the spark of the present dreadful flame of war was ignited. We may rest assured that when the present war is concluded we will have a drastic change in modes and quite apart from any pecuniary reason.

The influence of the war on fashions can be observed even now, for there are strong evidences that the Russian tunic lines advocated by all the best couturiers are the very acme of elegance, and the high military stocks and collars are already in the decline.

I have had the good fortune at various times to peep into the wardrobes of the most fashionable women in America.

An Afternoon Frock.

An afternoon frock which has caught my fancy is quite different from anything that has been generally seen. It is in that choice color, tete de negre. A chiffon tunic running around the satin petticoat like a spiral staircase is edged with four inch velours ribbon, edged in turn with an inch mola, the beginning and the end finished with a wonderful tassel. The corsage is chiffon, loose and blousy, and a big, queer burnt orange rose holds the girle in front. The toque, the only one of its kind in existence, I think, is of Chinese feather, with a tango fantasy of paradise. So simply and yet so costly and exquisite!

Another gown is of silver cloth and a lace tunic of delicate weave—so light it could almost be pulled through a bangle—with ropes and ropes of pearls, which form the corsage and sleeves.

Still another very delightful one is white and black charmeuse with a tulle of the two colors combined in strands of chenille, from which dangle brilliant and a queer centure of glis, tending black jet and diamond sequins. Airy, loose sleeves of black tulle are hung with jet tassels to induce them into proper position.

It would be impossible to wear petticoats with these gowns unless they were of a very light fabric, so that some freedom of movement could be allowed.

Early Winter Hats.

Long before the cold weather really comes we have drifted the way of all feminine flesh to early winter hats. We have had for some time a strange obsession for dark colored headgear, and our winter bonnets are still conforming with this whim. The new shapes, most of them black velours, are of the most enchanting description and so beautifully beautiful in themselves to do away with anything but the slightest ornamentation.

Peg, as conceived by J. Hartley Manners, is a crude sort of creature, with a lot of innate charm and an abundance of magnetism. She has never been accustomed to wearing pretty dresses, and the only one she adores is "the one I go to mass in."

This, a very simple dress bordered with cheap lace, is her idea of the epic of fashion, and so, when she enters the household of her stylish relatives and is told that she will have to be reëntitled, she remarks that she cannot see how her mass dress can be improved upon. However, the good taste of Mrs. Chester prevails, and she is adorned with two very stunning frocks, and she wears them with the natural grace of the true Irish lass, who, tradition says, looks good in anything.

SYNOPSIS.

Tom Wilson, who has grown up in a small town under the watchful care of his widowed mother, falls in love with Jane, the daughter of Judge Belknap, but the judge refuses his consent until such time as Tom shall be able to support a wife in comfort. Tom, who has a very good idea of his own ability, thinks that he can win his fortune more quickly in the city than in the country and goes to New York, accepting a position at $15 a week which has been offered him by one of his father's friends.

At his boarding house in New York, Tom makes the acquaintance of a chorus girl by the name of Amy, who immediately sets about fascinating him, partly for amusement and partly to make her lover jealous. The rest of the story concerns the manner in which he is saved from taking his own life as the result of shame and remorse, and the means through which he returns to the country town and regains his self-respect. Tom finally wins the approval of Judge Belknap and the romance of Tom and Jane comes to a happy conclusion.

The Price He Paid.

"The Price He Paid" will be the attraction at the Rex theatre Wednesday and Thursday. The story is of an artist who announced at the beginning of his career that he proposed to enjoy himself. After a few years of dissipation his physician informed him that he must change his mode of life and that he must not get married for a year.

When he met Lucie. He fell in love with her and they were married. The artist painted a beautiful picture of his wife and entitled it "Waiting." His former physician saw it—and bought it. The artist sprang almost instantly into fame as a portrait painter. He fell in love with the girl whose picture he was painting, deserted Lucie and arranged to marry her. The doctor learned the truth. The artist's sweetheart soon afterwards learned of her lover's duplicity.

The climax is a strong one. The artist says he is willing to face his accuser and is taken to the doctor's office. Instead of meeting Lucie, as he expected, he is conducted over to a corner of the room, where the body of a horribly deformed baby rests. He becomes a raving maniac on the spot. Lucie recovers her health and finds a true lover in the physician.

Miss Besse Dainty as "Lena Rivers" at the Cozy first half of the week.

Queen theatre, Dallas, and more recently as the assistant manager of the Old Mill theatre in the same city. He has been a visitor to Waco many times. With two enterprising men, experienced and encouraged by phenomenal success in their past undertakings, together with the strength of four other large theatres in Texas and New York connections to insure the best of clean motion pictures for Waco audiences who know and appreciate the best, further augmented by the co-operation of faithful workers in the other theatres, to please every patron that darkens the doors, the success of the Hippodrome under the new management seems assured.

After some slight changes the Hippodrome will be reopened on Thursday, March 4, with "Stop Thief," the George M. Cohan, George Klein and Sam H. Harris revival of the sensational melodramatic comedy that toured Texas last season. The feature is in five parts and will be shown here three days, ending Saturday, March 6. The company presented in "Stop Thief" will be the original Cohan and Harris cast and not the players seen in Texas last season. The motion picture will show Mary Ryan, the original "Nell" in the play.

With Miss Ryan will appear Harry Maysteyer, Harold Howard, Della Connor, Dan Moyle, the creators of their respective roles on the legitimate stage, together with Mrs. Augusta Burmeister as "Mrs. Carr" in the piece, who boasts of the distinction of being the only living person who has played Ophelia opposite Edwin Booth's Hamlet.

On Sunday, March 7, "The Christian" will open at the Hippodrome for a run of four days. "The Christian" is one of the features that was arranged for Texas showing at the Hulsey theatres by an agreement with the president of the Vitaphone company. The rental of the feature was so high that it was thought none but the large eastern centers would be able to offer it to their patrons. The fact that it will be shown here after breaking all attendance records at the Old Mill, Dallas, and the Queen theatres in South Texas, has all been made possible through the resources of a number of theatres under one management. Edith Storey and Earle Williams are featured in "The Christian." On Thursday, March 11, another Vitaphone feature will be shown. The title is "The Tangle," of especial interest to Texas is the fact that the feature was made in Texas by an all-star Vitaphone cast. The scenes are laid in and around Fort Crockett, Texas City

To further call attention to the class at the Hippodrome, mention is made that Bosworth's "Hypocrites," four-part picture written and directed by Lois Weber, will be shown four

For the first time in the history of motion picture entertainment, a film has received more than three hundred columns of notices in two weeks. This record was made by "Hypocrites" during the first two weeks run at the Longacre theatre, New York.

Russian Field Guns Taking a Shallow Ford

Although big mobile guns have revolutionized modern warfare and rendered fortresses obsolete, they have not entirely usurped the place of light artillery. Despite the horsepower of the largest modern powerful tractors and automobiles, it is not feasible and possible to move the heavy cannons everywhere that the lighter batteries, drawn by horse, can go. In the first place, a sudden storm might ruin the roads, cut off ammunition supplies, and where the lighter batteries, drawn by horse, can go. Stocks and Bonds.

New York, Feb. 20.—Renewed selling of stocks at the outset of today's session was in such volume as to bring the average of prices down to the lowest level for the present movement. Speculative favorites and various specialties declined from 1 to 3 points. The wheat market was under pressure from the bears. The influence of the big visible supply and of the wheat weakness could not be overcome. Seaboard's assertions of a big export call for oats were ineffectual to overcome in that regard the results of the depression of other grain.

Coffee.

New York, Feb. 20.—Coffee futures opened unchanged to 2 points higher this morning in sympathy with the relation of the ruling of Brazil, but prices eased off later under trade selling, with the market closing net unchanged to 2 points lower. Sales 5,500.

Dry Goods.

New York, Feb. 20.—Cotton goods and yarns were quiet. Fancy hosiery was in good demand for fall. More activity was shown in underwear and hosiery for spot delivery.

GOLD HOLDINGS OF FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS DECREASED
ACTUAL CONDITIONS OF CLEARING BANKS SHOW BIG RESERVE

Washington, Feb. 20.—Gold holdings of the federal reserve bank decreased about $7,500,000 during the last week, while holdings of legal notes, silver certificates and subsidiary coin increased little more than that amount, according to the statement on February 19, made public today by the federal reserve board. The statement showed:

In its weekly analysis, the board says:

Loans and discounts show an in-large gains in the southern district banks being partially offset by decreases shown in the other banks. Of the total amount of paper held over 43 per cent matures

"Discount operations of the federal impetus as a result of the further reduction of the discount rates authorized

Cotton.

New York, Feb. 20.—Nervousness over the shipping situation appeared to be the chief factor in the cotton market again this morning, and trading was very quiet, with fluctuations narrow and with the close steady, net up 3/16. The market opened at a decline of 1 to 3 points under overnight selling orders, and during the early trading sold closing prices. Liverpool was a shade better than due on the American close of yesterday, London advised that the market was quiet, as they indicated that war risks on overseas commerce were still being written at comparatively low rates, but the talk around the ring here reflected a very much unsettled sentiment and there was some Wall Street selling. There was nothing, however, to indicate that apprehension of a check in the export movement was causing any change of attitude on the part of southern holders, and prices were soon steadied on a moderate demand from trade interests. General business remained quiet and after the rally to about last night's closing figures, prices showed little further change. Cotton exchange received today from the department of agriculture at Washington the tentative type of middling stained and mid-middling yellow and blue-tinted cotton. Monday will be a holiday in the American markets, while Liverpool will be open for business, as usual. It is reported that war risks on shipments of both grain and cotton from this country to British ports have increased during the past few days, but that the advance has not proved sufficient to check business.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, Feb. 20.—The week-end session of the cotton market closed at a net loss of 2 points. A moderate volume of selling divided between offerings from liquidating longs and short cotton, but the market 3 to 4 points under yesterday's close at the lowest, while the steadiness derived from the large mill takings for the week and the heavy export movement brought about an advance of 1 to 3 points over yesterday's final at the highest. It was a narrow market, with little activity.

Mill takings were larger than expected, being 349,000 bales. In the week-end statement it was shown that an unusually large amount of cotton was afloat for European ports. Hester putting it at 1,300,000 bales, loans feared that during the week to come some of this cotton might be in danger.

Cotton Seed Products.

New York, Feb. 20.—Cotton seed oil felt the influence of the weakness in other commodities and prices were lower under liquidation, closing 10 to 15 points net lower.

Wheat.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Dangerous conditions developing abroad for export shipments brought about a firm decline in the price of wheat. Notwithstanding rallies, the market closed unsettled at 1 1/2c under last night.

Chicago wheat were 3 1/2c to 3 3/4c. Oats 2 1/2c and provisions 7 1/2c to 7 3/4c.

Fears that exports from the United States might be gravely interfered with by the wheat market prevented a rally in the wheat market, being lasting. Favorable prospects for the domestic winter crop counted also against the bulls. Advances regarding the Dardanelles came too late to affect the market.

Corn was under pressure from the bears the greater part of the day. The influence of the big visible supply and of the wheat weakness could not be overcome.

Seaboard's assertions of a big export call for oats were ineffectual to overcome in that regard the results of the depression of other grain.

Provisions showed decided weakness, especially pork. It was said packers were figuring on big arrivals of hogs next week.

Futures ranged as follows:

Wheat—Open, High, Low, Close
